A MESSAGE FROM SHAWN EICHORST

Thank you so much for your amazing support of Nebraska Athletics through your passion on game day in Memorial Stadium, to your daily interest in the welfare of all of our student-athletes. A MESSAGE FROM COACH MIKE RILEY

My staff and I would like to thank all of Husker Nation for your support of Nebraska Athletics and our football program. The support that we have received since joining the Nebraska family has been amazing.

After I arrived in Nebraska, one of the things I enjoyed was learning the history of Husker football. Nebraska has as much tradition as any college football program, but I quickly came to realize that what makes Nebraska truly special is the emphasis on the student-athlete and the way in which people genuinely care about these young men.

Nebraska's on-field success is well known:

- 5 national championships
- 1st in wins over the last 25 years
- 1st in wins over the last 50 years
- 3rd in NCAA history in all-time bowl games
- 4th in NCAA history in all-time wins

But what makes Nebraska truly one of the nation's best programs is how the Huskers have distinguished themselves in the classroom:

- An NCAA-record 320 Academic All-Americans in all sports (74 more than any other school)
- An NCAA-record 111 football Academic All-Americans (46 more than any other school)
- Nebraska football is the only sport in NCAA history with the distinction of having 100 All-Americans and 100 Academic All-Americans

Nebraska is committed to doing things right, and I could not be more honored to represent the University of Nebraska and its great fan base.

There is No Place Like Nebraska!

BLACKSHIRTS

DEFENSIVE DOMINANCE

One of Nebraska's most well-known traditions is the Blackshirts, the common nickname for the Husker defense. The term originally dates back to the early 1960s and refers to the black jerseys that Nebraska's first-string defenders wear in practice.

With the return of the two-platoon system in college football in 1964, Head Coach Bob Devaney looked for a way to distinguish the defensive units on the practice field. Devaney sent an assistant coach to a local sporting goods store to find "contrast jerseys", a sleeveless pullover that went on top of the players' practice jerseys. While the top offensive unit practiced in red jerseys and the second-string offense worked in green pullovers, the first-string defense wore black and the second string wore contrasting gold jerseys.

The term quickly caught on, then gained momentum during Monte Kiffin's tenure as defensive coordinator in the mid-1970s. The Blackshirts earned national recognition under Charlie McBride, who served as the Huskers' defensive coordinator from 1982 to 1999.

The Blackshirts celebrated their 50th season in 2013, and new Head Coach Mike Riley and defensive coordinator Mark Banker have readily embraced the long-standing tradition.

BLACKSHIRT DOMINANCE

"We have a great (defensive) tradition at Nebraska. As a former Blackshirt, it is basically the sense of urgency you play with. That is what it means to be a Blackshirt. It is being able to trust the guy next to you. It is 11 guys getting to the football."

Trev Alberts, 1993 All-American and Butkus Award Winner

- Nebraska has ranked in the top 10 nationally in total defense 22 times since 1964.
- Nebraska has ranked among the top 10 in all four major defensive categories (rush defense, pass defense, total defense and scoring defense) on five occasions, including national title seasons in 1994, 1995 and 1997, and most recently in 2009.
- Nebraska has ranked in the top 10 in scoring defense 23 times since 1964, including leading the nation in scoring defense in 1984 and 2009.
- Opponents have traditionally found moving the ball through the air difficult against the Blackshirts, as the Huskers have ranked in the top 10 in passing defense 18 times in the past five decades.

BLACKSHIRTS IN THE NFL

- Ndamukong Suh was the second overall selection in the 2010 NFL Draft and signed the richest contract in NFL history for a defensive player in March of 2015.
- Seventeen former Nebraska Blackshirts were on NFL rosters as of June 20, 2015.
- Nebraska has had 17 defensive linemen, 13 linebackers and 20 defensive backs drafted since 1997.
- Twenty-one Blackshirts have been taken in the first four rounds of the NFL Draft since 2000.
- Recent Blackshirts Ndamukong Suh and Lavonte David have earned All-Pro honors during their respective NFL careers.

BANKER DEFENSE

"To be a part of that Blackshirt unit you have to do things at a certain level to carry that distinction and have that responsibility. As players enter your program they should all aspire to be a part of that excellence and want that responsibility to continue that tradition."

Mark Banker, Defensive Coordinator

- First-year defensive coordinator Mark Banker has a history of success while working on Mike Riley's defensive staff at Oregon State.
- 70 defensive players at Oregon State earned all-conference honors under Banker's direction
- The 2007 Beaver defense led the nation in rushing defense, while ranking fourth in sacks and eighth in total defense
- 19 Oregon State players coached by Banker have been chosen in the NFL Draft since 2004, including five Beaver defenders taken in the 2009 draft

"Cathedral of College Football"

Memorial Stadium is one of the most iconic venues in all of collegiate sports. The Home of the Huskers since 1923, Memorial Stadium is universally ranked among the best in college football.

The historic stadium has continued to grow and improve with age. Nebraska has averaged more than 90,000 fans each of the past two seasons to rank in the top 10 in the nation.

Nebraska has continued its unmatched sellout streak, packing Memorial Stadium for every home game since 1962, a sellout streak totaling more than 340 games. Nearly 26 million fans have passed through the gates of Memorial Stadium during the ongoing sellout streak.

"There are no words to describe the feeling of making a Tunnel Walk and winning a game in Memorial Stadium. The Tunnel Walk is the single-most exciting part of our games. The anticipation leading up to a football game and that fire you feel in your belly."

Kenny Bell, Nebraska's all-time leading receiver

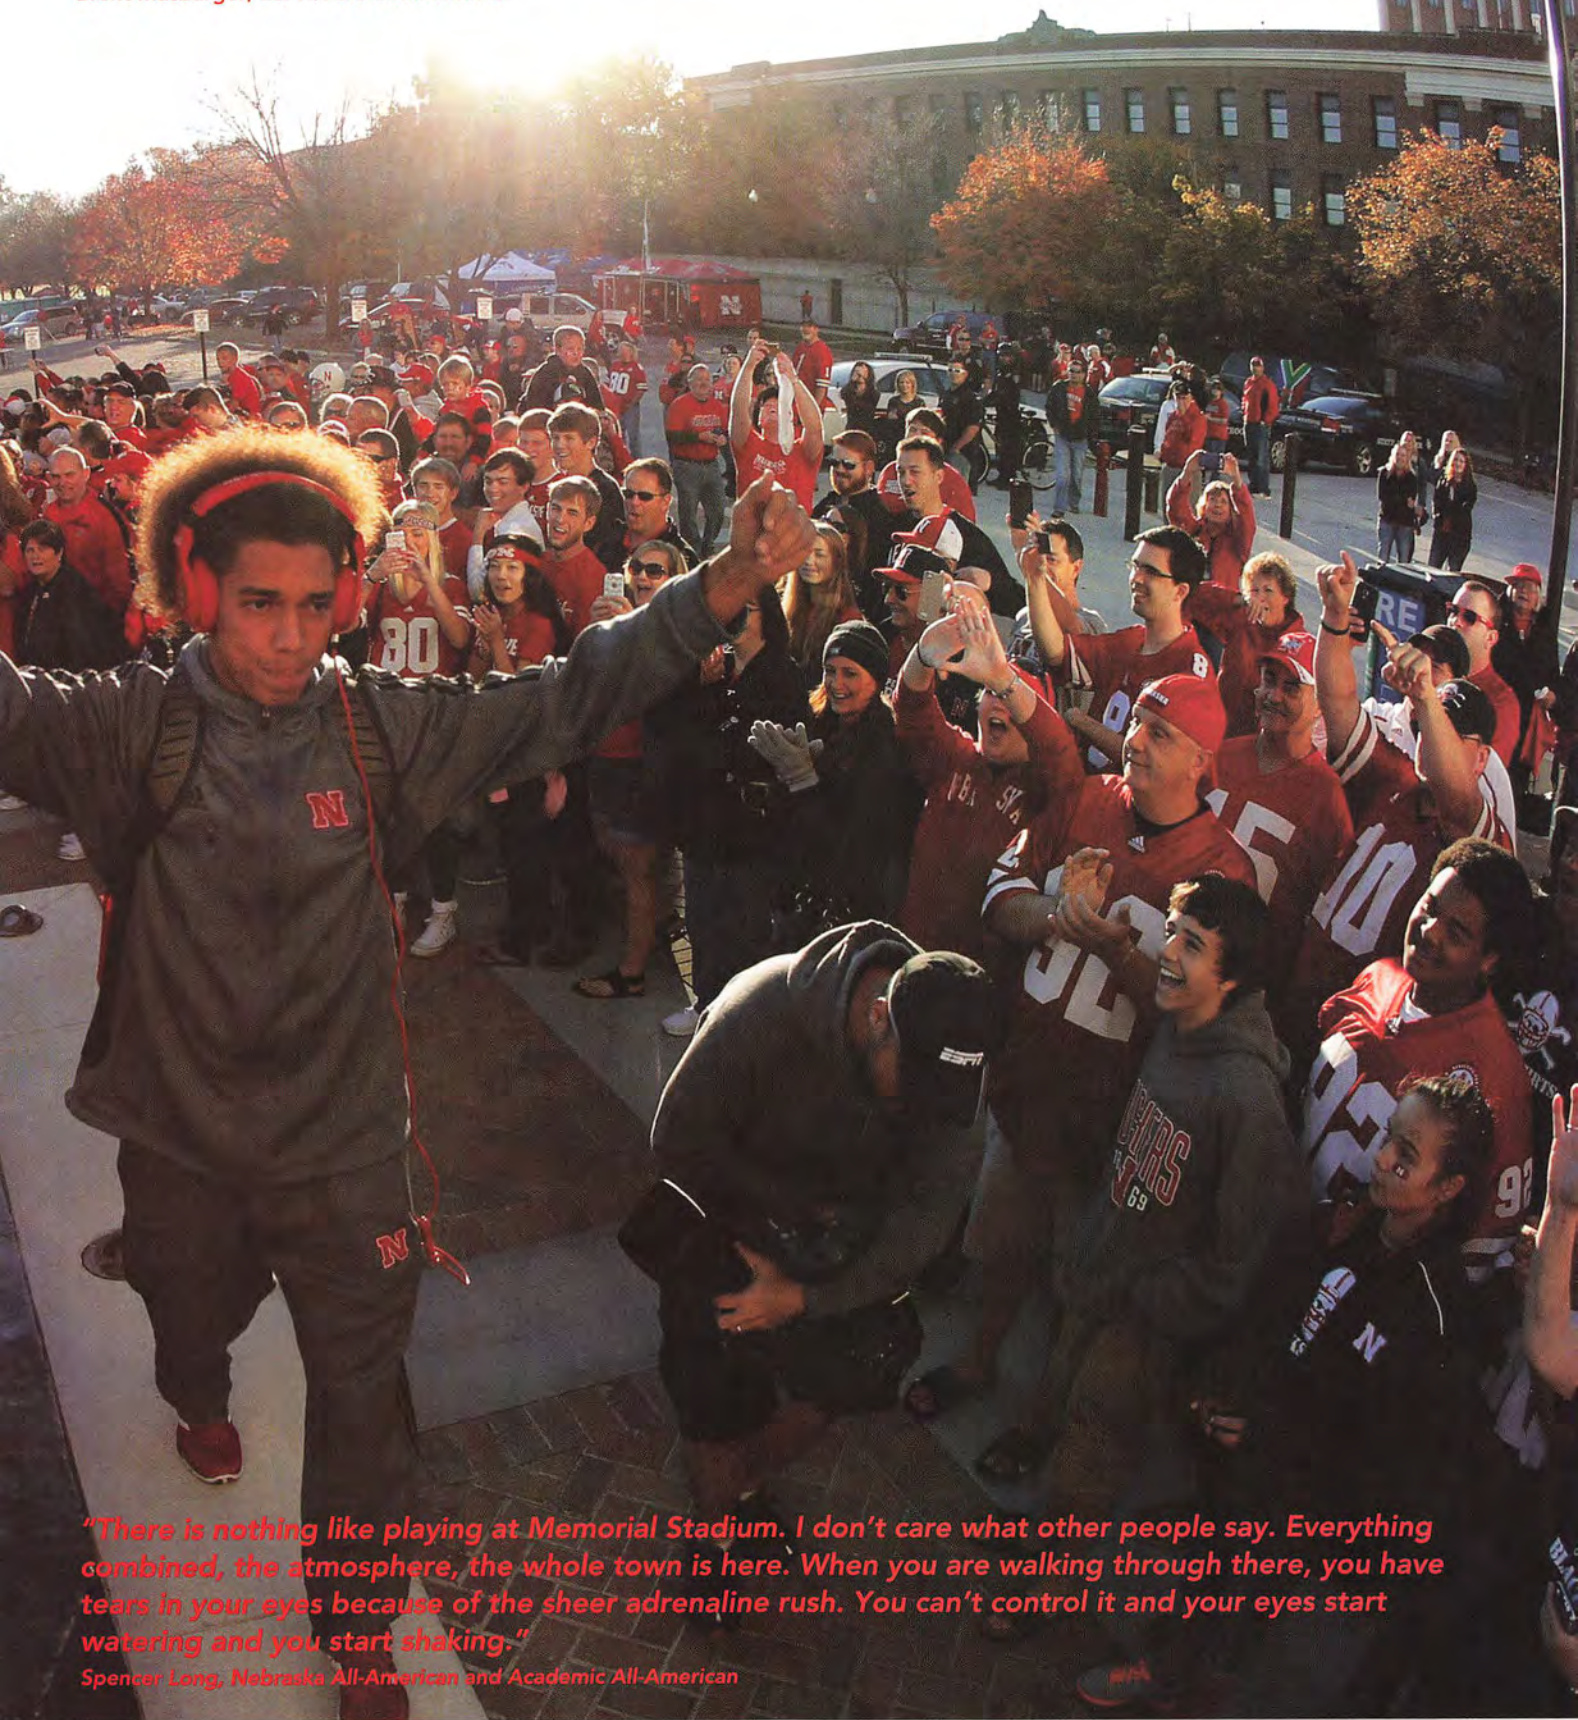

GAME DAY ATMOSPHERE

Game days at Nebraska are unlike any in college football. Fans line the streets of Lincoln waiting to enter the "Sea of Red," while the marching band parades up Stadium Drive as thousands of red-clad fans look on. The Huskers emerge from the famous "Tunnel Walk" to the sound of "Sirius" and the fans stay at a frenzied pitch until the final play of the game when they graciously cheer for the opposing players as they exit the field.

The Tunnel Walk, which began in 1994, has become an integral part of Memorial Stadium's game-day experience. It was created as a way for fans to share in the excitement of the team emerging from the locker room, something only a few could do before HuskerVision's cameras and big screens came to Memorial Stadium. The sounds of the Alan Parsons Project's "Sirius," and the roar of more than 90,000 frenzied fans rock the stadium as the Huskers burst through the locker room doors and into the tunnel on their way to the Memorial Stadium FieldTurf. For as long as anyone can remember, the Huskers have touched a lucky horseshoe on their way from the locker room to the field. The horseshoe hangs above the door as Nebraska leaves the North Stadium.

"I'll tell you the biggest difference between the state of Nebraska and any other state in football. I think the fan's loyalty, the noise factor that's on the field and the Sea of Red when you look out."

Brent Musburger, ESPN/ABC Commentator

"There is nothing like playing at Memorial Stadium. I don't care what other people say. Everything combined, the atmosphere, the whole town is here. When you are walking through there, you have tears in your eyes because of the sheer adrenaline rush. You can't control it and your eyes start watering and you start shaking."

Spencer Long, Nebraska All-American and Academic All-American

DEVOTED FANS

"No fan base has more passion or dedication. It is ALWAYS about the football at Nebraska. And that's what makes this place a college football Holy Land."

Tom Dienhart, Big Ten Network

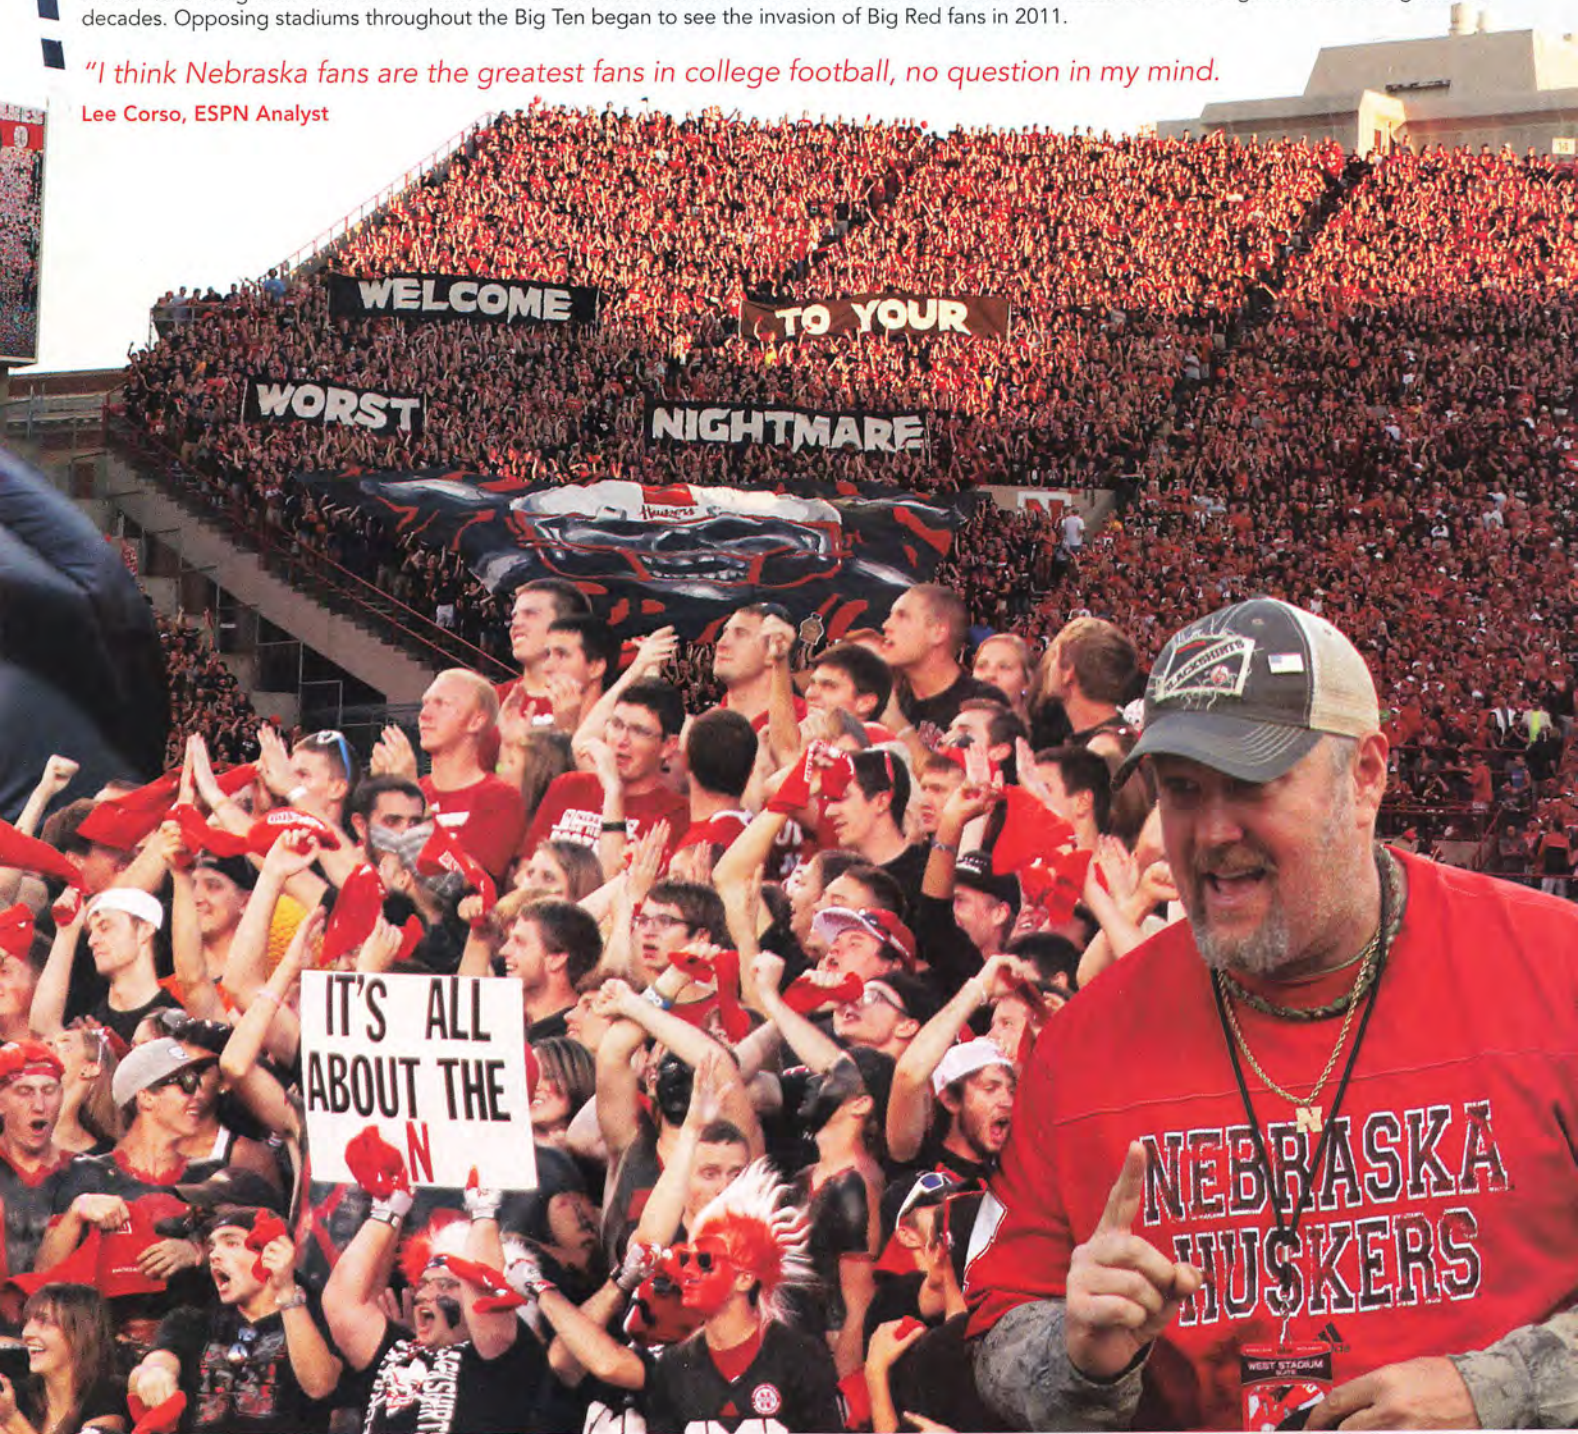

Nebraska fans are perhaps the most loyal in college football. The entire state follows the Huskers, along with a truly national fan base. Cornhusker fans have packed Memorial Stadium for every home game since 1962. In 2009, Nebraska celebrated its 300th consecutive home sellout, a NCAA record streak that stands at 340 games entering the 2015 season.

Nebraska has ranked in the top 10 nationally in home attendance the past two seasons, averaging better than 90,000 fans per game in both 2013 and 2014. Nebraska had season ticket holders from 49 of 50 states in 2014.

Husker fans bring their show on the road as well. Red-clad Nebraska fans have traveled in the tens of thousands to bowl games and road games for decades. Opposing stadiums throughout the Big Ten began to see the invasion of Big Red fans in 2011.

"I think Nebraska fans are the greatest fans in college football, no question in my mind."

HUSKERS IN THE NFL

Nebraska has one of the most impressive records of placing players in the NFL. More than 300 Husker players have went on to NFL careers. Over the past two decades, Nebraska ranks second among Big Ten Conference schools in players selected in the NFL Draft.

As of June 20, Nebraska had 30 players on NFL rosters. Nebraska is represented on the rosters of 19 NFL teams.

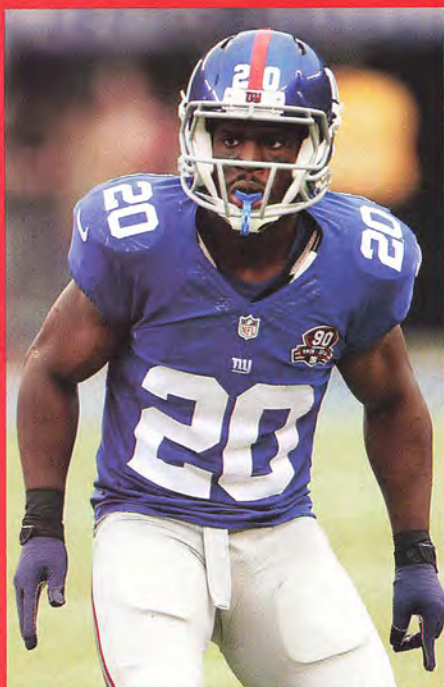

HUSKER NFL FACTS

- Nebraska is regularly among the most represented schools at the NFL Scouting Combine. NU had nine players at the Combine in 2011, the second-most in the country. Nearly every NFL franchise regularly attends the Huskers' Pro Day in Lincoln (right).
- Nebraska leads the nation with 22 consecutive years with a player on a Super Bowl roster.
- Former Husker Ndamukong Suh became the highest paid defensive player in NFL history in 2015.

THE STUDENT-ATHLETE

Nebraska Athletics is one of the few self-sustaining intercollegiate athletic programs in the country. In the 2014-15 fiscal year, Nebraska drew more than 1.3 million fans across all sports through the gates of its world-class facilities. This incredible interest and support enables Nebraska Athletics to invest in the student-athlete experience, as well as the overall game-day experience. Nebraska is a leader in providing all the resources and support necessary for student-athletes to become successful in academics, athletics and life. Nebraska will continue to strategically plan for avenues to strengthen the resources to support more than 600 Husker student-athletes.

LIFE SKILLS

The Husker Life Skills program allows student-athletes to continue their development and impact lives in the community. In 2014-15, Husker student-athletes, such as Zack Darlington, combined for more than 6,500 hours in the community, making an impact on thousands of Nebraskans across the state.

DICK AND PEG HERMAN FAMILY STUDENT LIFE COMPLEX

The Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex provides a comprehensive learning area for many of the Husker student-athletes. The complex houses the Academics, Life Skills and Compliance offices, and the Walter Scott Technology Center.

EXPERIENCE

LEWIS TRAINING TABLE

Husker student-athletes have ample places to dine, as the Lewis Training Table is open extended hours for meals, while the North Stadium and Hendricks Training Complexes have areas for supplements for recovery after workouts or for snacks throughout the day.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Nebraska's legendary strength program has a staff of 12 strength coaches, including football strength coach Mark Philipp, who creates personalized strength and conditioning programs for Husker student-athletes.

ATHLETIC MEDICINE

Nebraska's Athletic Medicine facilities rank among the nation's best, while one of the most experienced medical staffs in the nation care for all Husker student-athletes.

In August of 2014, the NCAA Division I Board of Directors restructured the way member institutions and conferences, including the Big Ten, govern themselves. This change in governance, and subsequent legislation, has paved the way for Nebraska to enhance the benefits and experiences for its student-athletes even further. A few examples of these enhanced benefits are:

- All scholarship student-athletes across all sports will have their scholarship calculated based on the full cost of attendance.
- Each student-athlete will receive an Apple MacBook Air laptop computer to enhance their learning opportunities (pictured top left).
- Nebraska has increased resources and support in all academic and performance related areas including but not limited to Academic Services, Life Skills, Athletic Medicine, Athletic Training, Strength and Conditioning, Nutrition and Dining Services (Training Table).
- Nebraska created the first-known post-eligibility benefit program, where every student-athlete who has graduated and exhausted their athletic eligibility, will have the opportunity to pursue with NU's support an internship, participate in a study abroad program or attend graduate school.

THE ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS (ALL SPORTS AS OF AUGUST 2015)

The athletic academic unit, located in the Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex, provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers. Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is composed of 14 full-time staff members and is certified by the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A) as meeting the standards established by the N4A.

ACADEMIC COUNSELING

Seven academic counselors, three learning specialists and two assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation.

TUTORIAL SUPPORT

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support from approximately 120 tutors on staff is available from day one up to college graduation in all subject areas. The tutorial program is certified as a model tutoring program by the College Reading and Learning Association.

STUDY HALL

Nebraska's study hall program is housed in the D.J. Sokol Enrichment Center within the Student Life Complex. Student-athletes attend a supervised, flex-time study hall that features day, evening and weekend hours. Student-athletes are required to complete a specific number of study hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. Additional performance-based or tutor-based study hall also may be determined by the academic counselor.

MENTORING

Academic support staff serve as mentors to all incoming student-athletes and a select group of returning student-athletes. Student-athletes meet with their mentor weekly to develop time management skills, gather and report academic progress information, and discuss academic success strategies.

EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENTS

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach. Learning specialists are available to administer and score informal assessments, which include a reading comprehension and a writing assessment. When more in-depth assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined a student-athlete has a learning disability or another medical condition that impedes the student from reaching their academic potential, appropriate accommodations are implemented by the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ORIENTATION

Each new student-athlete attends an orientation at the beginning of their academic career. Student-athletes are introduced to staff, faculty, administrators, and a variety of resources that help facilitate the transition into college while enhancing awareness of support services in the Athletic Department and across campus.

PERSONAL COUNSELING

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

COMPUTER RESOURCES

The Herman Student Life Complex has two computer labs available for student-athletes. The Scott Technology Center features two tech tables for use on group computer projects and group study sessions. Additionally, each student-athlete is provided a laptop for use throughout their academic career at Nebraska.

Top: Columns in the Hewit and Boekel Academic Center display the names of every Husker student-athlete who has lettered in a varsity sport and graduated from the University of Nebraska, while portraits honor each of Nebraska's nation-leading CoSIDA Academic All-Americans.

"You definitely get the total package of an experience from athletics, academics, community outreach and campus life. Everybody on staff within the program makes sure that the student-athletes reach their fullest potential and that is why there is no place like Nebraska."

Rex Burkhead, 2013 NFL draftee

LIFE SKILLS

Widely regarded as the premier and most comprehensive Life Skills program in college athletics, the Husker program is committed to providing proactive education, resources and support throughout college and beyond promoting total person development and preparation for life after sports. Five full-time staff members and one graduate assistant coordinate a wide array of services benefitting Husker student-athletes.

Josh Banderas and Dwayne Johnson Jr. were among a group of Husker student-athletes who participated in Nebraska Athletics' inaugural service trip to Guatemala in May 2015.

The annual Nebraska Football Uplifting Athletes Road Race has raised more than $80,000 for pediatric brain cancer research in its three-year history.

PROACTIVE EDUCATION

The Life Skills team organizes several orientations aimed at acclimating student-athletes to college life. All incoming student-athletes attend the fall semester Husker Life Seminar. This interactive class promotes responsible decision-making, personal brand, financial literacy, leadership, involvement and service.

INDIVIDUAL MEETINGS

Every Nebraska student-athlete is assigned a Life Skills Coordinator who will arrange multiple individual meetings throughout the academic year aimed at enhancing personal and career development. The meetings help each student-athlete identify a career focus and implement a plan to increase career marketability.

CAREER COMMITMENT

Nebraska Life Skills organizes an annual Student-Athlete Career Networking Night (pictured bottom right) and other career events. Athlete Network and Husker Hire Link provide opportunities to explore career opportunities across the country.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Nebraska student-athletes readily accept the role-model challenge by collectively giving more than 6,500 hours annually to impact thousands throughout the entire state of Nebraska. Outreach events include but are not limited to hospital visits (pictured bottom left), mentoring, school assemblies (pictured opposite page, bottom left), statewide rallies, Make-A-Wish, NFL Play 60 and Husker Heroes.

LEADERSHIP

Nebraska Life Skills provides student-athletes with endless opportunities to enhance leadership skills while distinguishing themselves from the competition. Internally, student-athletes can be members of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Uplifting Athletes Chapter or Husker Distinction Council. On campus, UNL offers more than 600 recognized student organizations. Annually, Nebraska Life Skills funds and coordinates a one-week service abroad trip allowing nearly 20 student-athletes to come together for a common goal while enriching cultural competencies.

RECOGNITION

In 2014-15, a record 37 Husker Football student-athletes were named to both the Tom Osborne Citizenship Team and Brook Berringer Citizenship Team for completing a minimum of six service projects in the calendar year. There are a host of other recognition opportunities both at the institutional, Big Ten and NCAA level.

POST-ELIGIBILITY OPPORTUNITIES

Effective December 2015, student-athletes who letter and graduate will have a three-year window to benefit from one of three post-eligibility opportunities each valued at $7,500. Upon completion of required seminars, graduates can study abroad, complete an internship or begin graduate school within the Nebraska system.

HUSKER POWER

The University of Nebraska has long been recognized as being the national leader in the area of strength and conditioning. Nebraska was the first NCAA school to have a paid strength and conditioning coach, the first to lift weights in-season, the first to hold an official summer conditioning class for student-athletes and the first to offer a degree for strength coaching.

Nebraska football student-athletes train throughout the year in the Ndamukong Suh Strength and Conditioning Center, one of the nation's finest facilities. Built in 2006, the facility is one of the largest in the country. The facility gives Husker student-athletes a technological and strategic advantage by combining state-of-the-art strength training innovation with top-notch coaching and programming. The Ndamukong Suh Strength and Conditioning Center contains a FieldTurf agility track adjacent to the strength training equipment allowing for high impact strength programming on different dynamic surfaces.

The strength and conditioning staff consists of five full-time staff members, led by Head Football Strength Coach Mark Philipp. The staff works with Husker football student-athletes teaching proper strength and conditioning techniques.

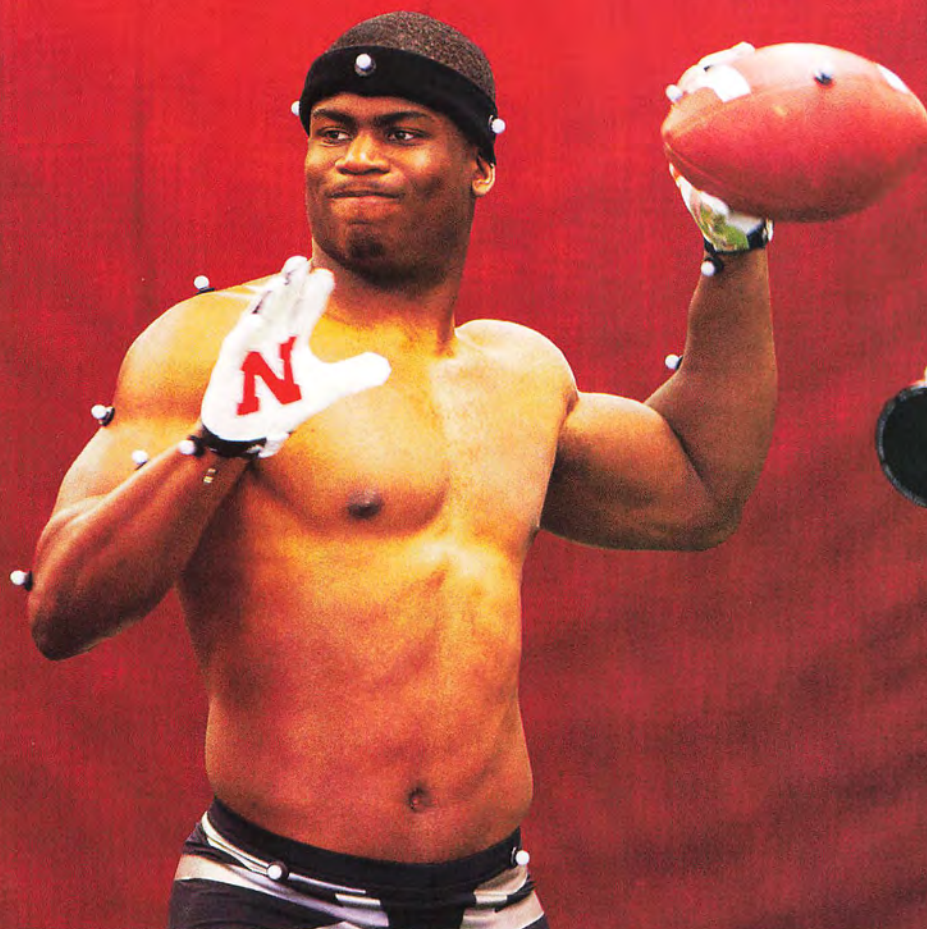

The latest upgrade to the Ndamukong Suh Strength and Conditioning Center took place in the summer of 2015. The facelift nearly doubled the number of lifting platforms and included new equipment and new apparel. The layout changes allowed the strength staff to redesign and implement a program that accommodates each individual athlete in the most efficient manner possible. Components considered in the new weight room layout included accommodating more athletes per group and the time and space required to enhance performance and reduce the risk of injury.

"This incredible facility helped me earn all the honors I was so privileged to receive while I was at Nebraska...There is not a better strength and conditioning program in the country."

Ndamukong Suh, Nebraska All-American (2009)

NEBRASKA ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE LAB

Nebraska has always been on the forefront in training for student-athletes and the opening of the Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) in 2013 positions Husker Athletics as a trendsetter in the field. The creation of the NAPL and Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3) brought together athletic and academic researchers under one roof to study human behavior and performance.

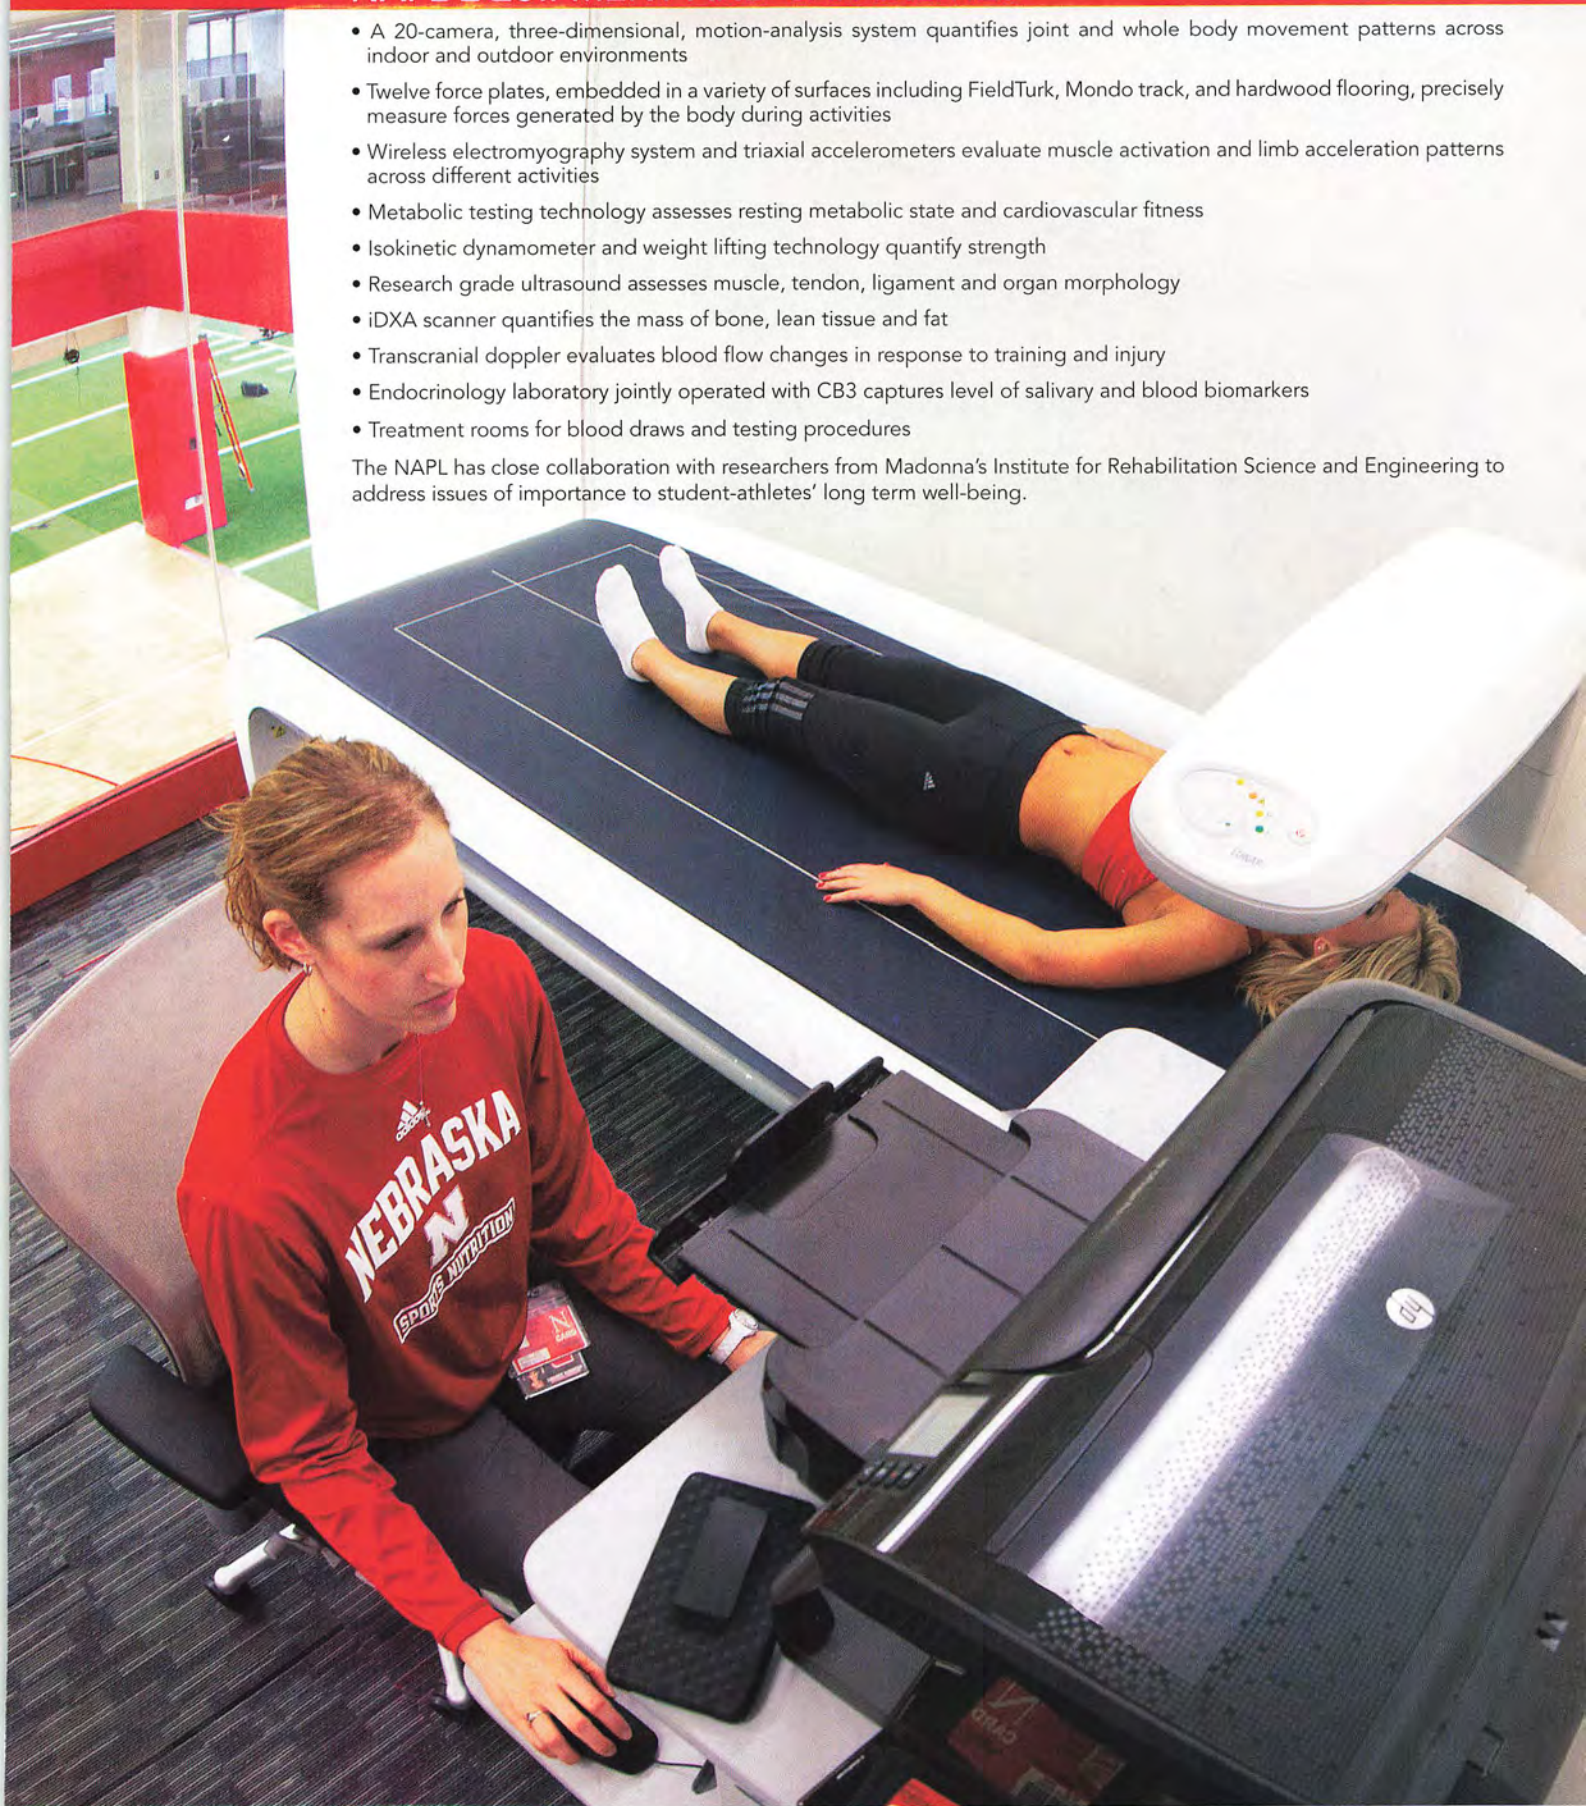

"We're learning things that we haven't seen before with football. Hopefully we'll be able to put that toward something that helps us on the field." Boyd Epley, Assistant Athletic Director for Strength and Conditioning.

The NAPL team draws together researchers with diverse areas of expertise, including biomechanics, computer sciences, endocrinology, engineering, ergonomics, exercise physiology, nutrition, physical rehabilitation, psychology, sports science and vision. Researchers collaborate with Nebraska coaches and staff, as well as colleagues from around the world to address areas that are critical to athletes and society.

NAPL EQUIPMENT AND CAPABILITIES

- A 20-camera, three-dimensional, motion-analysis system quantifies joint and whole body movement patterns across indoor and outdoor environments
- Twelve force plates, embedded in a variety of surfaces including FieldTurf, Mondo track, and hardwood flooring, precisely measure forces generated by the body during activities
- Wireless electromyography system and triaxial accelerometers evaluate muscle activation and limb acceleration patterns across different activities
- Metabolic testing technology assesses resting metabolic state and cardiovascular fitness
- Isokinetic dynamometer and weight lifting technology quantify strength

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Nebraska Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. Founded in Lincoln, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a state educational system now comprising four campuses under the guidance of a Board of Regents and a central administration.

Nebraska, which joined the Big Ten Conference in 2011, is a member of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation, a consortium of Big Ten universities and the University of Chicago, which has generated unique opportunities for students and faculty by sharing expertise, leveraging resources and collaborating on programs.

COMMITTEE ON INSTITUTIONAL COOPERATION

As a member of the Big Ten, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) is a member of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation, which includes all 14 Big Ten Institutions and the University of Chicago. The Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) and the institutions together have annual research expenditures topping $10.2 billion — more than the Ivy League and the University of California System combined — and they educate a total of nearly 600,000 students.

Several students are sitting on the steps and walking around. In the background, there are large brick buildings, green lawns, and trees. The sky is clear and blue.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Since its inception in 1896, the pursuit and attainment of academic excellence has been a priority for every Big Ten member institution. But maintaining the conference's standard of competing at the highest level in athletics also endures as an important component of the Big Ten experience. Striking that balance between academics and athletics is integral to the Big Ten's identity. Recognized as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten strives for success from its students not only on the field and in the classroom, but around the world as well.

PREMIER ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS

- The Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) is an academic consortium of all 14 Big Ten universities and the University of Chicago, which is widely considered to be the model for effective and voluntary collaboration among top research universities.
- Every CIC institution ranks among the top 78 universities in the nation according to the 2014 Academic Ranking of World Universities, including six in the top 25.
- The Big Ten leads all conferences with more than 1,600 Academic All-Americans, including 45 honorees during the 2014-15 academic year. CIC schools had over $10 billion in 2013 funded research, $4 billion more than any other conference.

A HISTORY OF ATHLETIC SUCCESS

- Big Ten schools earned 10 team national championships in 2014-15, breaking the previous conference single-season record of nine national titles in 1999-2000.
- In the last two academic years, current Big Ten institutions have claimed 17 team national championships across 12 sports.
- Over the last 10 years, current Big Ten institutions have won 78 team national titles in 23 sports, including at least seven in each of the last seven academic years.

PASSIONATE FOLLOWING

- The Big Ten leads all conferences with 5.7 million alumni and nearly 580,000 students.
- Each year more than 11 million patrons attend Big Ten home contests, as the conference leads the nation in attendance for men's basketball, hockey, volleyball and wrestling.

Dear Big Ten Fans:

For more than a century, the Big Ten and its member institutions have been committed to excellence in both academics and athletics and we appreciate your ongoing support of this mission. With another season upon us, we look forward to delivering an unforgettable experience to the students, coaches and fans.

The advantages of competing in college sports are both immediate and long-lasting. Students are provided a world-class education, receive elite training opportunities and learn invaluable lessons about leadership, resilience and teamwork.

The Big Ten remains committed to supporting broad-based programs. This year, more than 9,500 students will learn and compete on 350 teams in 42 different sports. The conference produced a record 10 team national championships in the 2014-15 academic year, the seventh straight year with at least seven national titles. We are equally proud of the 45 students that received Academic All-America honors, adding to the conference's national best 1,600 all-time honorees.

Big Ten students enter the future with everything they need to become dynamic leaders. Today's participants have learned to compete by the same principles as those that played before them, including the highest level of sportsmanship. We encourage our fans to follow their lead. Cheer for your team, revel in victory and be gracious in defeat.

Students competing this week will strive for a championship, and relish an experience that will last a lifetime. We invite you to help them reach their goal both today, and in all of their future endeavors.

Sincerely,

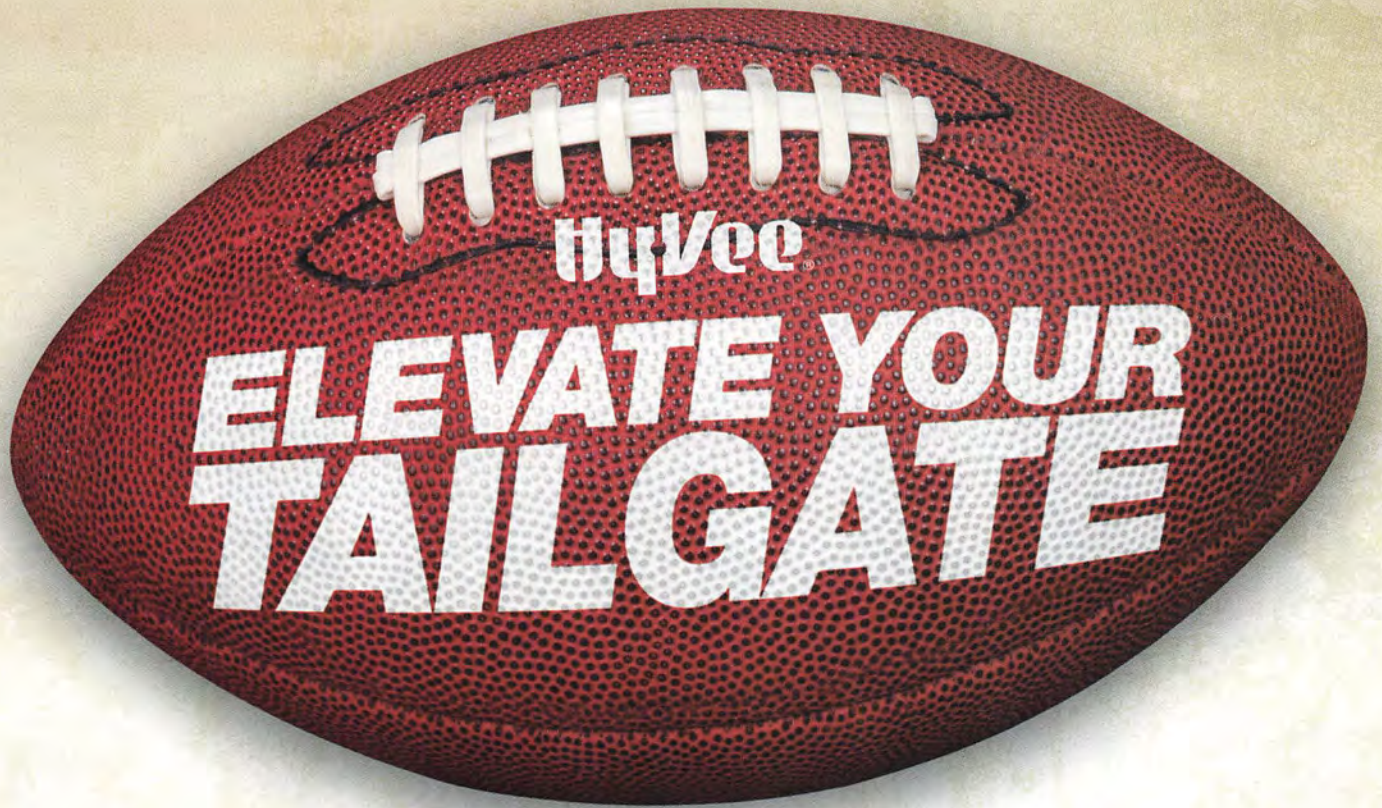

James E. Delany
Big Ten Commissioner

EXTENSIVE TELEVISION EXPOSURE

- Through the Big Ten's media agreements with BTN, ABC/ESPN, CBS and FOX, nearly 1,400 Big Ten events are produced and distributed nationally and globally on an annual basis.
- BTN is in more than 60 million homes across the United States and Canada. BTN2Go is BTN's digital extension, delivering live and on-demand programming to computers, smartphones and tablets. BTN Plus within BTN2Go streams hundreds of additional events each season.

BROAD-BASED PROGRAMMING

- The Big Ten administers nearly $200 million in direct financial aid to almost 9,500 students competing in intercollegiate athletics for more than 11,000 participation opportunities on 350 teams in 42 sports.
- The Big Ten sponsors 28 official conference sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men's ice hockey and men's and women's lacrosse the last two years.
- The Big Ten leads the nation in total students competing in intercollegiate athletics and participation opportunities, and sponsors more official sports than all conferences other than the Ivy League.
- Almost 1,400 Big Ten competitors have participated in the Olympics, winning more than 600 medals, including nearly 300 gold.

THE SOUTH ALABAMA JAGUARS AT A GLANCE

South Alabama opened its season with a 33-23 over Gardner-Webb. The Jaguars had only 13 first downs last week, but averaged 7.2 yards per rush and 13.1 yards per completion.

USA ran 20 fewer plays than Gardner-Webb but gained 99 more yards. The Jaguars return only seven starters from 2014, the second-fewest of any team in the FBS ranks.

South Alabama went 6-7 in 2014, including 5-3 in the Sun Belt. The Jaguars played in their first-ever bowl games in 2014, losing 33-28 to Bowling Green in the Raycom Media Camellia Bowl.

USA has lost three consecutive road games after previously having won four straight road games.

Coach Joey Jones was the 2013 Sun Belt Coach of the Year.

South Alabama is facing a Big Ten opponent for the first time.

HUSKER SPOTLIGHT

Jordan Westerkamp is only one game into his junior season, but he has already been one of the most productive receivers in Husker history. Westerkamp caught seven passes for 107 yards against BYU last Saturday, extending his streak to 14 consecutive games with at least one reception.

Westerkamp ranks in a tie for 17th in Nebraska history with 71 career receptions and is 15th with 1,137 career receiving yards. He boasts a career average of 16.0 yards per catch, a total that ranks fifth in Husker history among players with a minimum of 60 career receptions.

With 1,137 career receiving yards, Westerkamp is just 242 yards from moving into 10th place on Nebraska' all-time career receiving yardage list.

Nebraska faces a first-time opponent for the second straight week tonight when the Huskers host the South Alabama Jaguars. NU faced BYU for the first time last Saturday, opening the season with a 33-28 loss to the Cougars on a 42-yard touchdown pass as time expired.

The loss spoiled Head Coach Mike Riley's Husker debut, and snapped Nebraska's nation-leading win streak in season openers. The Huskers had won 29 consecutive season openers.

FIVE THINGS TO KNOW

- Nebraska is looking for the 875th victory in program history tonight. Only three teams in NCAA FBS history have won 875 games.
- The Huskers own a 41-5 all-time record in night games at Memorial Stadium.
- Tommy Armstrong Jr. has thrown for more than 300 yards in each of his last two games, including 381 yards in the 2014 Holiday Bowl vs. USC and 319 yards last week against BYU. He is the first Husker to throw for 300 yards in consecutive games since Joe Ganz in 2008.
- Seven Huskers earned the first start of their career last Saturday against BYU (David Sutton, Nick Gates, Chongo Kondolo, Terrell Newby, Lane Hovey, Dedrick Young, Aaron Williams).
- Nebraska's youth was on display last Saturday, as non-seniors combined for 390 of the team's 445 total yards last week and 45 of its 58 tackles.

HUSKERS PUTTING UP POINTS

Nebraska scored 28 points in its season opener against BYU last Saturday. With four touchdowns against the Cougars, Nebraska has now scored at least three touchdowns in 15 consecutive games, dating back to the start of the 2014 season, the third-longest streak in school history. Nebraska can also tied a school record today by scoring in its 247th consecutive game.

NEBRASKA'S LONGEST STREAKS OF SCORING THREE OR MORE TOUCHDOWNS

- 22 games (1996-98)
- 18 games (1982-83)
- 15 games (2014-present)

TRUE FRESHMEN EARN RARE STARTS IN OPENER

Freshman linebacker Dedrick Young and freshman safety Aaron Williams both started Nebraska's season opener against last Saturday against BYU. Since freshmen regained NCAA eligibility in 1972, the duo became just the fourth and fifth Husker true freshmen to start a season opener. In addition, Young and Williams became only the second and third Husker true freshmen defenders to start a season opener. Young registered seven tackles and Williams made six stops.

CHARTING THE HUSKERS

Quarterback Tommy Armstrong Jr. is moving toward the top of several Nebraska all-time record lists, despite his junior status. Armstrong Jr. moved into 10th place on Nebraska's career total offense chart after accounting for 321 yards (319 passing, two rushing) against BYU last Saturday. Against the Cougars, Armstrong Jr. passed 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier for the 10th-most total yards in Husker history.

Among the charts that Armstrong Jr. is climbing:

- Ranks 10th in school history with 4,889 yards of total offense in his career.
- Ranks third in Husker history with five career 300-yard total offense games.
- Ranks seventh in Nebraska history with 276 career completions.
- Ranks seventh in school history with 32 career touchdown passes.
- Ranks seventh in Husker history with 4,021 career passing yards.
- Armstrong Jr. enters today with 4,889 yards of total offense in his career. He needs 111 more yards to become the eighth Husker to produce 5,000 yards of total offense.
- Armstrong Jr. is looking to join Taylor Martinez and 2001 Heisman Trophy winner Eric Crouch as the only Husker quarterbacks to accumulate 5,000 yards of total offense before their senior season.

When did you start playing football?

"I started playing football in the 5th grade, and I always loved the sport."

What is your earliest football memory?

"Playing catch in front of my house with friends and my older brother Richard."

"My high school coach (Danny Edelman). He helped me grow in football and as a person, and he's still there for me when I need him."

What was your first reaction when Nebraska showed interest in you, and what made you decide to become a Husker?

"I didn't know anything about Nebraska, but the history and fans made it an easy choice."

What is the best memory of your Husker career?

"Scoring the winning touchdown against Michigan State."

Editor's note: Turner caught a six-yard touchdown pass with six seconds remaining to give Nebraska a 28-24 win at Michigan State in 2012. His touchdown helped the Huskers rally from a 10-point deficit, the fifth-largest fourth-quarter come-from-behind victory in school history.

What is your passion outside of football?

"Raising my son."

What are your plans after football?

"I want to become a sports agent."

What advice would you give your 10-year-old self?

"Cherish every moment with my mother."

What are three things people would be surprised to know about you?

1. I love the TV show Empire.
2. I put sugar in my spaghetti.
3. I love horseback riding.

JAMAL TURNER

— WIDE RECEIVER • ARLINGTON, TEXAS —

Jamal Turner is in his fifth year in the Husker football program and is a senior for the second straight year. After earning playing time as a true freshman and appearing in 34 games with six starts over his first three years, Turner suffered a season-ending injury after playing in only two games last season. He was granted a medical hardship, allowing him to return to the field this fall as a graduate student after earning his degree in criminology and criminal justice last May. Turner ranks 22nd in school history with 66 career receptions.

GIVENS PRICE

— DEFENSIVE TACKLE • HOUSTON, TEXAS —

Givens Price appeared in 23 games and started three contests last season on the offensive line. This fall, Price has made the switch to defense as a defensive tackle. One of Nebraska's top student-athletes, Price earned his degree in four years and is playing this season as a graduate student. A three-time academic All-Big Ten selection, Price earned his degree in accounting/management at the age of 20 after entering the Husker program as a 16-year-old in 2011.

Q&A WITH GIVENS PRICE

When did you start playing football?

"I started playing football my sophomore year of high school."

What is your earliest football memory?

"My earliest memory of football would be joining PE class my freshman year of high school and being told by the coach I was too big for PE, so I got switched to football thinking he meant soccer."

Who had the biggest influence on your football career and how have they impacted your journey to Nebraska?

"My mom. My mom has spent her entire life giving her all to provide for my sister and I, so through football, it's my turn to return years of overdue favors."

What was your first reaction when Nebraska showed interest in you, and what made you decide to become a Husker?

"My first reaction when Nebraska showed interest in me was 'where on Earth is that state located at'? I decided to become a Husker after I took my visit in September 2010 and experienced the culture and people."

What's the best part about Nebraska?

"The people and culture."

What is your career passion?

"To become the partner or executive of a company and help lead that company to success."

What are your plans after football?

"Prepare for the CPA exam and then begin working as a tax accountant for a big four accounting firm. I decided to do that based on the educational opportunity I was given at the university, which allowed me to complete my undergrad early and begin grad school while finishing my last year as a Husker."

What advice would you give your 10-year-old self?

"Start football earlier because I didn't start playing until I was 13 as a sophomore in high school."

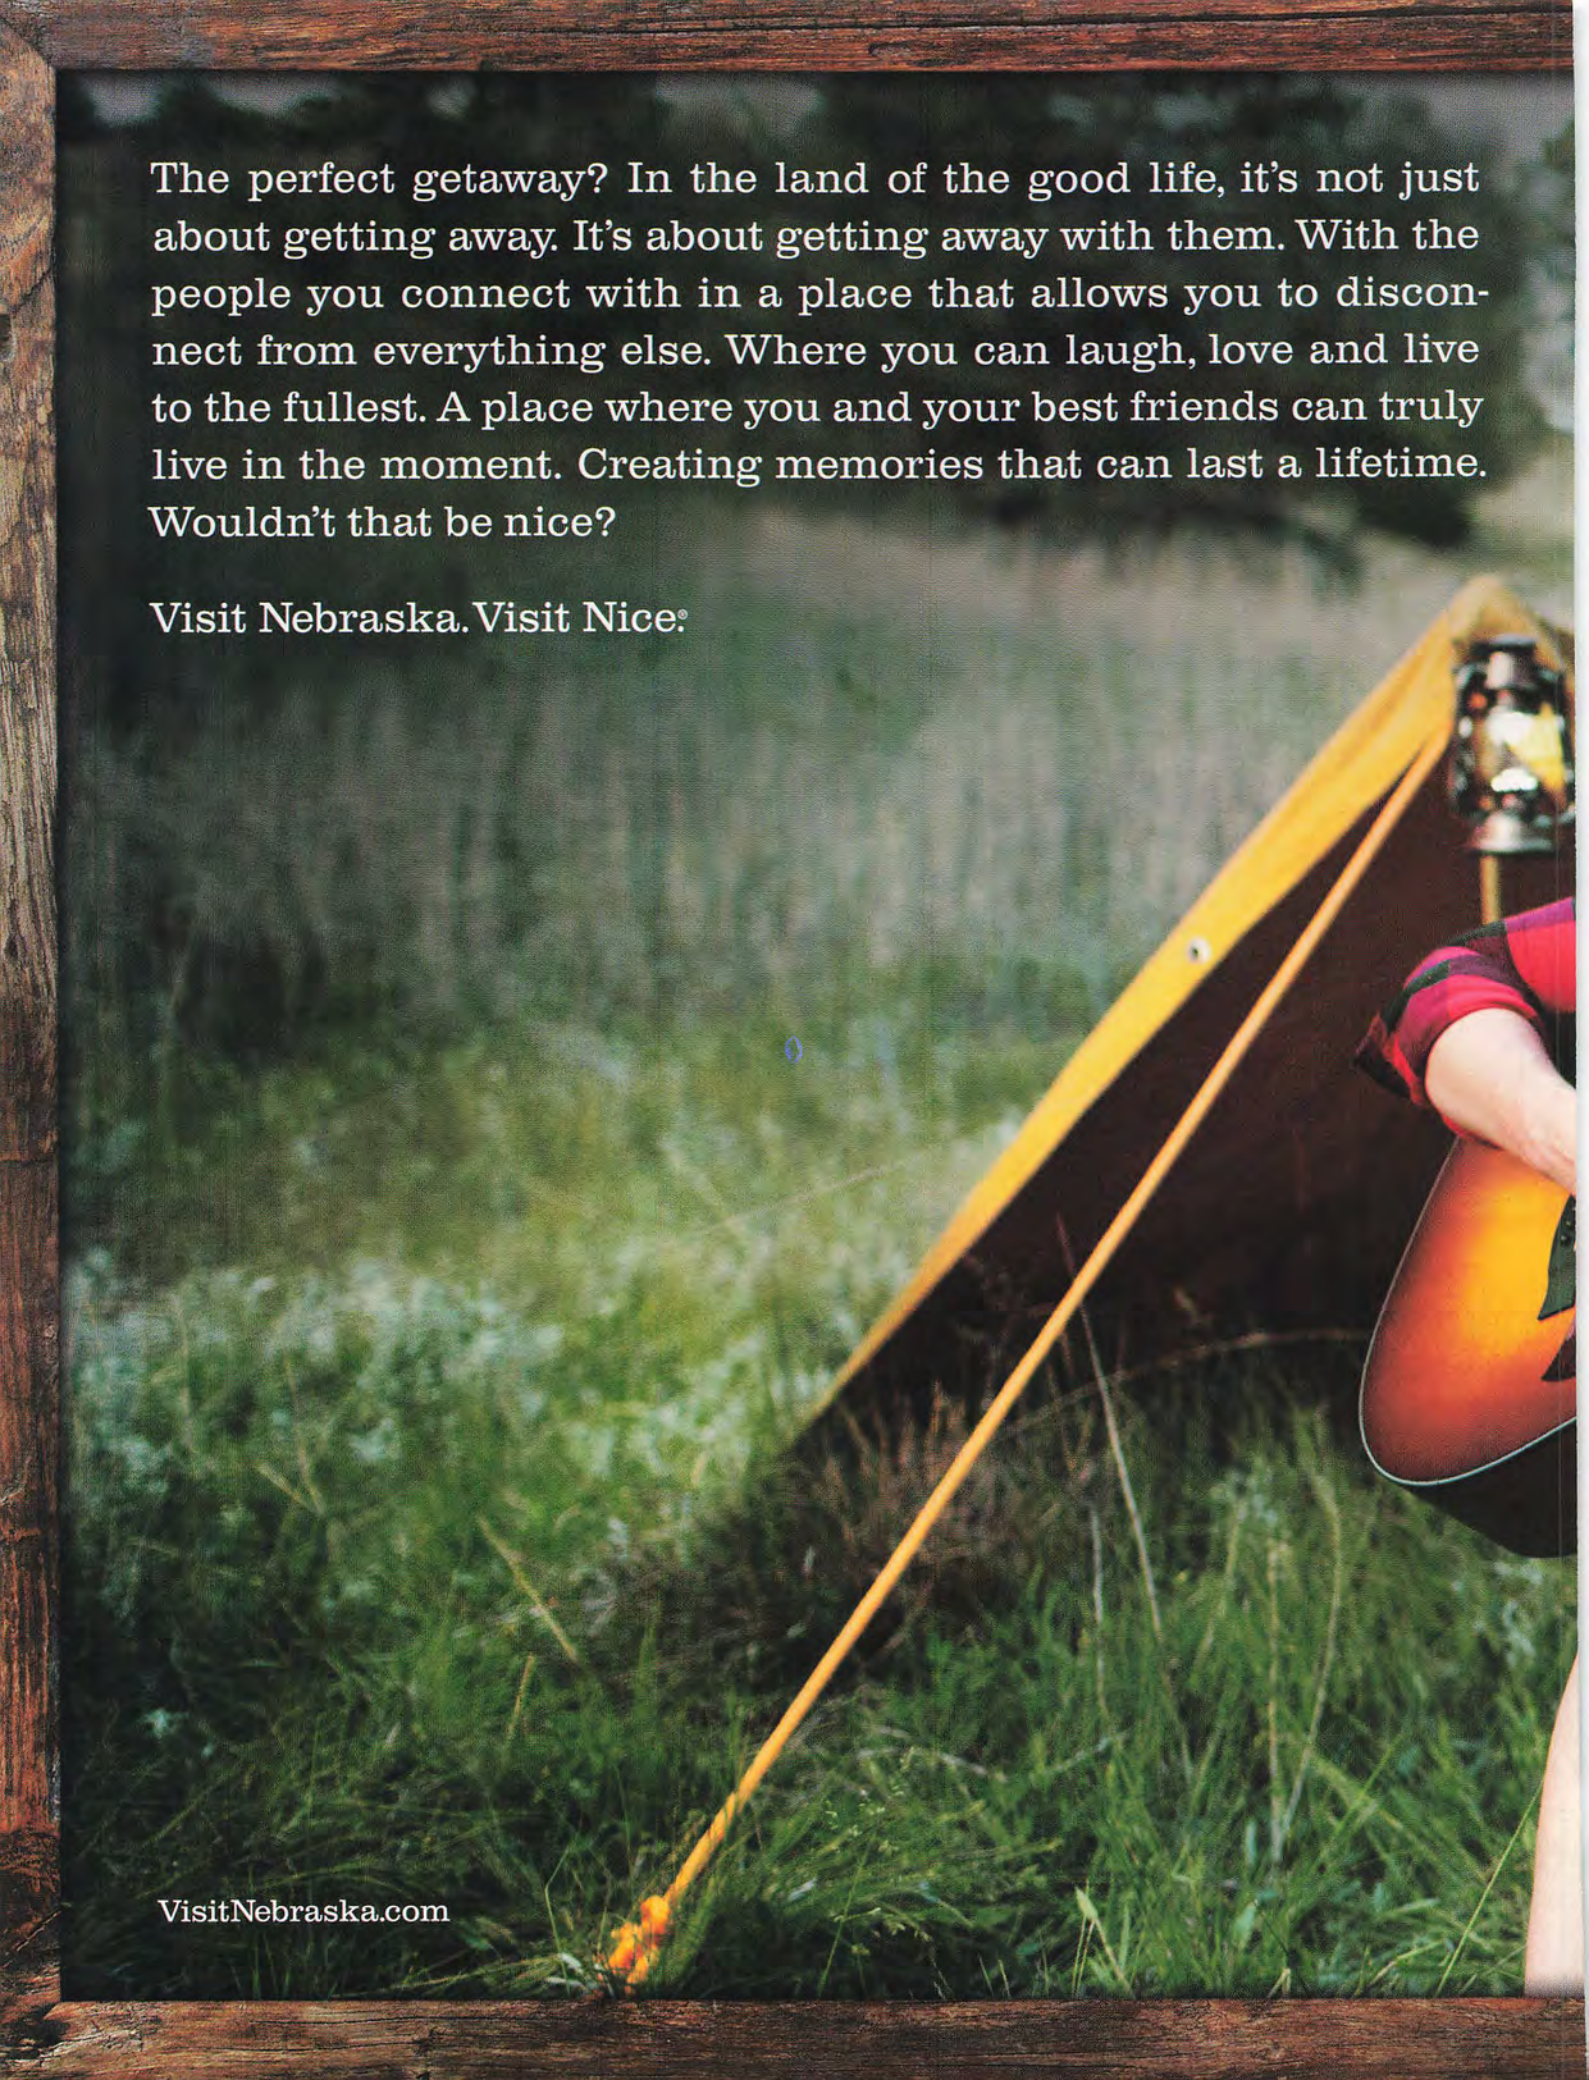

What are three things people would be surprised to know about you?

1. I skipped the 4th and 7th grades.
2. I have a bachelor's degree but am not of legal age to drink.
3. If all else fails in my life, I've truly considered becoming a singer.

The perfect getaway? In the land of the good life, it's not just about getting away. It's about getting away with them. With the people you connect with in a place that allows you to disconnect from everything else. Where you can laugh, love and live to the fullest. A place where you and your best friends can truly live in the moment. Creating memories that can last a lifetime. Wouldn't that be nice?

2015 NEBRASKA FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME CLASS

Recent NFL defensive standouts Demorrio Williams and Josh Bullocks highlight a five-player group of 2015 inductees into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame who are being honored at today's game.

Joining Williams and Bullocks, who were Blackshirts together at Nebraska in 2002 and 2003, are 1997 national championship quarterback Scott Frost (1990s), All-Big Eight safety Jeff Krejci (1980s) and All-Big Eight halfback Harry Wilson (1960-70s).

In addition, quarterback Brook Berringer, who was a key player on Nebraska's 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, will receive an honorary posthumous induction into the Hall of Fame. The announcement of Berringer's induction came on July 9, on what would have been his 42nd birthday.

Midland University All-America offensive tackle Brad Colburn adds a state college flavor to the 2015 induction class. Colburn, a native of Aurora, Colo., was a four-year starter for the Warriors, claiming NAIA first-team All-America accolades in 1997 after earning an honorable-mention All-America award in 1996.

The Hall also recognized Kelly and Virginia Holthus of York with its Clarence E. Swanson Meritorious Service Award. Byron and Olinda Boslau of Lincoln are being honored with the Lyell Bremser Special Merit Award.

The Nebraska Football Hall of Fame is sponsored by the Nebraska Chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame. The College Football Hall of Fame opened in South Bend, Ind., in 1995. It opened its new headquarters in Atlanta in 2014.

Prior to 2015, players must have been either an All-American or first-team all-conference selection to make the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame ballot. Beginning in 2015, Huskers who earned second-team all-conference honors dating back to the expansion of the Big Eight to the Big 12 (1996) and now the 14-team Big Ten, will be eligible. Players are not eligible for the ballot until after a 10-year waiting period from the end of their collegiate careers. Major national award winners earn automatic induction. Active NFL players are not on the ballot.

This year's Nebraska Football Hall of Fame class will celebrated together with an induction dinner on the University of Nebraska campus yesterday. The class will be introduced prior to today's game with South Alabama at Memorial Stadium.

2015 NEBRASKA FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME INDUCTEES

Harry Wilson (1964-66) - A star for Hall of Fame Coach Bob Devaney's early Nebraska teams, Harry Wilson was a first-team All-Big Eight pick and an honorable-mention UPI All-American as a senior in 1966. The 5-11, 200-pound halfback from Steubenville, Ohio, rushed for 1,610 yards and 10 touchdowns in his career. Wilson led NU in rushing yardage in both 1965 (672) and 1966 (635), while leading the 1966 Huskers in all-purpose (1,077) and kickoff return yardage (226). Wilson helped NU to three straight Big Eight titles as a three-time letterwinner. He also played in Nebraska's first-ever Cotton and Sugar bowls, along with a national championship game appearance in the Orange Bowl to cap the 1965 season. All three Husker teams finished in the top six in the national rankings, posting a 28-2 regular-season record with only narrow losses at Oklahoma as blemishes in 1964 and 1966. As a sophomore, Wilson and the Huskers opened 9-0 before a loss at Oklahoma and a 10-7 setback to No. 2 Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl. The 1965 Huskers went 10-0 in the regular season capped by a 21-9 pounding of Oklahoma, before falling to national champion Alabama in the Orange Bowl. As a senior, Wilson led the Big Red to a 9-2 record that included a 6-1 conference mark and NU's fourth consecutive Big Eight crown. Nebraska opened 9-0 before ending the regular season with a 10-9 loss at Oklahoma. Alabama then soured NU's first Sugar Bowl trip. Wilson closed his college career with an appearance in the Senior Bowl, before being chosen in the 1967 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles. He spent the 1967, 1968 and 1969 seasons with the Eagles.

Jeff Krejci (1979-81) - A first-team All-Big Eight safety for Hall of Fame Coach Tom Osborne's Huskers, Jeff Krejci led the Blackshirts with four interceptions as a senior in 1981. In his only season as a starter, Krejci captured honorable-mention All-America accolades from the AP after leading the Big Red defensive backs with 63 tackles. Nebraska's secondary also led the nation in pass defense, surrendering just 100.1 yards per game, fueling NU's run to the 1981 Big Eight title. The 6-0, 180-pounder from Schuyler, Neb., helped the Huskers rank sixth nationally in total defense. During Krejci's three seasons as a letterwinner, the Huskers posted a 29-7 overall record with eight shutouts. The Huskers played in the Orange, Cotton and Sun bowls, and finished among the top 10 in the national polls all three seasons. Krejci, who capped his collegiate career in the Senior Bowl, came to NU as a walk-on after earning all-state honors at quarterback for Class B state champion Schuyler in 1976. He started on the 1977 NU freshman team before redshirting in 1978. He played behind All-Big Eight safety Russell Gary in 1979 and 1980. Krejci closed his career with 77 total tackles, six interceptions, eight pass breakups and two fumble recoveries. He signed a free agent contract with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1982.

Scott Frost (1996-97) - The starting quarterback on Nebraska's 1997 national championship team, Scott Frost was a second-team All-Big 12 choice as a senior. Frost led Hall of Fame Coach Tom Osborne's final team to a perfect 13-0 season that culminated with a 42-17 dismantling of Peyton Manning and No. 3 Tennessee in the 1998 Orange Bowl. The 1997 Huskers won 11 of their 13 games by 13 or more points, including a 39-point pounding of Texas A&M in the Big 12 Championship Game. As a senior, the 6-3, 220-pounder from Wood River, Neb., became the first Nebraska quarterback in history to pass (1,237) and rush (1,095) for more than 1,000 yards in the same season. His 1,095 rushing yards rank as the third-best rushing total by a quarterback in Husker history. One of five finalists for the 1997 Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award, Frost threw just four interceptions. In fact, in 359 career attempts, Frost tossed just seven interceptions against 18 touchdowns. His most memorable pass came with an overtime connection to Matt Davison (with some help from the foot of Shevin Wiggins) in a 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri on Nov. 8, 1997. Frost finished that game with a career-best 316 yards of total offense, including 175 passing and 141 rushing. He closed his collegiate career with 2,677 passing yards and 1,533 rushing yards. He had a hand in 46 touchdowns, including 28 on the ground. Frost was a second-team CoSIDA Academic All-American in 1997 and was a two-time first-team academic All-Big 12 selection. He was chosen in the third round of the 1998 NFL Draft by the New York Jets. He spent six seasons as an NFL safety, including 1998 through 2001 with the Jets. He finished 2001 with Cleveland, before going to Green Bay in 2002 and Tampa Bay in 2003.

Josh Bullocks (2002-04) - One of the top pass defenders in Nebraska history, Josh Bullocks captured first-team All-America honors as a sophomore in 2003, when he intercepted a school single-season record 10 passes. His 13 career interceptions rank No. 2 in Husker history. He added 160 total tackles, one fumble recovery, one blocked punt and 17 pass breakups in his career. The 6-0, 205-pound free safety from Chattanooga, Tenn., was a first-team All-Big 12 selection as a sophomore before adding second-team honors in 2004. A captain for the Huskers in his final season as a junior, Bullocks played in 37 career games with 29 starts. He started five games as a redshirt freshman in 2002, notching 48 tackles while recording his first career interception. He started all 13 games as a sophomore for a Blackshirt defense that led the nation in pass defense, interceptions (32) and turnover margin (+23). As a junior, he added a pair of interceptions and a career-high 63 total tackles. Bullocks was chosen by New Orleans in the second round of the 2005 NFL Draft and spent the first four of his six seasons in the NFL with the Saints. He closed his career with Chicago, spending the 2009 and 2010 seasons with the Bears. In 90 career games, Bullocks made 53 starts, notching 290 tackles while recording six career interceptions.

Demorrio Williams (2002-03) - An explosive and disruptive defender, Demorrio Williams produced 220 tackles, including 27 for 116 yards lost. He had 12 sacks for 92 yards in his two seasons as a Blackshirt. A 6-2, 215-pound linebacker from Beckville, Texas, Williams was a first-team All-Big 12 selection and one of 10 semifinalists for the Butkus Award as a senior. A 2003 Nebraska captain, Williams started all 13 games and recorded 128 tackles as a senior, including 21 for a position-record 92 yards in losses. His 11 sacks for 77 yards are also the most in history by a Husker linebacker. He also recovered four fumbles and forced two more while putting up a team-high 13 quarterback hurries that led to three interceptions by his teammates. A fourth-round selection by Atlanta in the 2004 NFL Draft, Williams spent four seasons with the Falcons from 2004 through 2007. He spent four more seasons with Kansas City from 2008 through 2011, before closing his career with San Diego in 2012. He played in 138 career NFL games with 68 starts, recording 618 combined tackles, including 7.5 sacks. He added seven career interceptions that he returned for two touchdowns, while forcing six fumbles and recovering four with one more score. On Dec. 12, 2005, Williams recorded a career-high 15 tackles against Josh Bullocks and the New Orleans Saints.

2015 HALL OF FAMER FROM THE STATE COLLEGE RANKS

Brad Colburn (Midland, 1994-97) - A four-year starter on the offensive line at Midland Lutheran College in Fremont, Brad Colburn captured first-team NAIA All-America honors as a senior in 1997. An honorable-mention All-American as a junior for the Warriors in 1996, Colburn was a two-time first-team all-conference selection for Midland as a junior and senior. The 6-0, 272-pounder out of Overland High School in Aurora, Colo., went on to play in the 1997 College/Semi Pro All-American Bowl at the Metrodome in Minneapolis in 1997. Colburn, who was inducted into the Midland University Athletic Hall of Fame in 2009, was a starter as a freshman on an offensive line that carried the Warriors to the 1994 NAIA playoffs. Colburn is now a real estate agent for Perry & Co. in Denver, and is active in endurance sports, including triathlons, marathons, ultra-marathons and skiing.

'LIGHT HORSE' WILSON FINALLY FINDS HIS OWN PLACE IN THE SUN

Recent NFL defensive standouts Demorrio Williams and Josh Bullocks and former Nebraska quarterback Scott Frost highlight a five-player class of 2015 inductees into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame this weekend.

Williams and Bullocks wore Blackshirts together at Nebraska in 2002 and 2003. Williams went on to play eight years in the NFL with three teams and Bullocks played six years in the NFL with two teams. Frost was the quarterback on Nebraska's 1997 national championship team before a six-year career in the NFL as a defensive back.

Jeff Krejci, a first-team All-Big Eight safety in 1981, is a fourth modern-day Husker who will be inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame. The fifth and oldest Hall-of-Famer? Meet Harry "Light Horse" Wilson, who not only is in Lincoln this weekend as a Hall-of-Fame inductee, but also to celebrate the 50-year anniversary of the Huskers' 1965 Big Eight championship team that played in the Orange Bowl.

Following a 10-0 regular season in 1965, NU fell to Alabama, 39-28, in an Orange Bowl showdown that decided the national champion. Nebraska finished third in the final UPI ranking and fifth in the AP poll. Three of Nebraska's four first-team All-Americans on that 1965 Golden Anniversary team are in Lincoln for today's reunion – defensive tackle Walt Barnes, defensive end Tony Jeter and safety Larry Wachholtz.

Wilson will be present for the double celebration of his individual Hall-of-Fame enshrinement and the 1965 team reunion. Despite the obstacles he's had to face and the hurdles he's had to clear throughout his life, "Light Horse" Wilson had a memorable career at Nebraska, enjoyed a three-year stint in the NFL with the Philadelphia Eagles and remains savvy enough to babysit two young grandchildren on a regular basis.

In August, I connected with "Light Horse" on the phone and told him he deserves his own place in the sun. "Finally," he said, laughing. I told him how legendary he was to countless Nebraskans who loved watching Harry "Light Horse" Wilson follow in the running back footsteps of Bill "Thunder" Thornton and Charlie "Choo Choo" Winters.

That activated another sincere, robust laugh, especially when he remembers Bob Devaney and John Melton recruiting him out of Steubenville, Ohio, where he was the state's Back of the Year. The "Steubenville Stomper" went on to lead Nebraska in rushing as a junior in 1965 and a senior in 1966.

"Back then, you couldn't play as a freshman," he said, acknowledging, however, that he flirted with fame as a sophomore when the Huskers went 9-0 before losing their regular-season finale at Oklahoma. The Huskers then fell to unbeaten Arkansas at the Cotton Bowl. In a backfield that included quarterback Bob Churchich and fullback Frank Solich, "Light Horse" stole the show, gaining 84 yards on only 12 carries, including a 45-yard run midway through the fourth quarter.

I write "Light Horse" because it was Jeter, one class ahead of Wilson, who bestowed that name on Wilson when he became nationally prominent at the Cotton Bowl. "I got that name from Tony," he said, unaware if there was any connection to the Harry "Light Horse" Wilson who was an All-America halfback at Penn State in 1923 before his induction into the College Football Hall of Fame 50 years later.

Nebraska's "Light Horse" was a first-team All-Big Eight running back and honorable-mention All-American as a senior, when he led the Huskers with 1,077 all-purpose yards. More importantly, he was pivotal in helping Nebraska win three straight Big Eight championships from 1964 to 1966, when NU finished among the top six in the final poll those three seasons. The Huskers' overall record was 28-5 during that three-year run.

Harry "Light Horse" Wilson (31) was the leading rusher on Nebraska's 1965 Big Eight championship team that faced Alabama in the Orange Bowl.

WILSON & 1965 TEAMMATES HONORED TODAY

In addition to recognizing the 2015 Nebraska Football Hall of Fame Class at today's game, Nebraska will honor the 50th anniversary of the 1965 Big Eight champion Huskers, who went 10-0 in the regular season before losing to Alabama in the Orange Bowl.

Hall-of-fame inductee Harry Wilson will be a part of both celebrations, as he was the Huskers' leading rusher in 1965, with 672 yards on only 120 carries. Coming off a second straight Big Eight championship in 1964, Nebraska opened 1965 as the nation's top-ranked team, earning the first No. 1 ranking in school history. The Huskers outscored their opponents 321-90 during a 10-0 regular season, never allowing more than 17 points while winning by an average of more than 23 points per game.

Nebraska took aim at its first national championship in the Orange Bowl in its first-ever meeting against Alabama. Playing in the first night bowl game in school history, the Crimson Tide claimed the national title with a 39-28 victory.

Although the loss spoiled NU's perfect season, the 1965 Nebraska Cornhuskers left a lasting legacy on Husker football. Seniors on that 1965 team represented Bob Devaney's first recruiting class at Nebraska. The Huskers won four Big Eight titles in Devaney's first five seasons, and six years after the Orange Bowl loss to Alabama, Nebraska got revenge with a 38-6 thrashing of the Crimson Tide to complete a second straight undefeated national championship season in 1971.

Health and Climate Change

UNL ZOOLOGIST SAYS CLIMATE CHANGE LEADS TO RAPID EMERGENCE OF INFECTIOUS DISEASES

BY LESLIE REED

The appearance of infectious diseases like West Nile and Ebola in new places and new hosts is a predictable result of climate change, a UNL zoologist says.

In published research, Daniel Brooks warns that humans can expect more such illnesses to emerge in the future as climate change shifts habitats and brings wildlife, crops, livestock, and humans into contact with pathogens to which they are susceptible but to which they have never been exposed.

Brooks has personally observed how climate change has affected very different ecosystems: While he has focused primarily on parasites in the tropics, his colleagues have studied the Arctic. Each has observed the arrival of species that hadn't previously lived in that area -- and the departure of others.

Climate change-induced changes in habitat mean animals are exposed to new parasites and pathogens, he said. Even pathogens that are highly adapted to one host are able to quickly shift to new ones under the right circumstances.

New hosts can be more susceptible to infection and get sicker from it, Brooks said, because they haven't yet developed resistance. "West Nile Virus is a good example of this phenomenon -- no longer an acute disease problem for humans or wildlife in North America, it nonetheless is here to stay," he said.

In addition to treating human cases of an emerging disease and developing vaccines for it, scientists can learn which non-human species carry the virus. Knowing the geographic distribution and the behavior of the non-human reservoirs of the virus could lead to public health strategies based on reducing risk of infection by minimizing human contact with infected animals, much like those that reduced the incidence of malaria and yellow fever by reducing human contact with mosquitos.

Daniel Brooks

Museum scientists versed in understanding the evolutionary relationships among species could use this knowledge to anticipate the risk of the pathogen becoming established outside of its native range.

"We have to admit we're not winning the war against emerging diseases," Brooks said. "We're not anticipating them. We're not paying attention to their basic biology, where they might come from and the potential for new pathogens to be introduced." ■

DILLONS MAKE 'DREAM COME TRUE' FOR HUSKER TENNIS PROGRAMS

Longtime University of Nebraska donors Sid and Hazel Dillon have made dreams come true for the Husker men's and women's tennis programs.

As the lead donors for Nebraska's sprawling new indoor/outdoor tennis facilities that bear their name - the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center - the Dillons have significantly upgraded the Husker tennis programs.

"This is a dream come true for us to be able to conduct practices and host matches indoors and outdoors," men's tennis head coach Kerry McDermott said. "It will create a better learning environment and will allow for more one-on-one time with our student-athletes."

In addition to the Dillons' name on the tennis center, Nebraska's newest facility is also home to Hibner Stadium, the sparkling new home for the Husker soccer team. The combined state-of-the-art facilities were fully funded through private donations and provide Husker student-athletes with elite practice and competition facilities that immediately rank among the nation's best, according to McDermott.

"It's one of the best facilities in the country. When kids come in, they're like 'Oh, my gosh! This is the best facility I've seen,'" McDermott said.

McDermott and women's tennis head coach Scott Jacobson waited patiently and embraced the excitement following the University of Nebraska Board of Regents' approval to build a combined soccer and tennis facility. With 33 years of experience as the Husker men's tennis coach, McDermott has the second-longest tenure among active Big Ten Conference head coaches. Jacobson has served a quarter-century as the Husker women's tennis coach.

The Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center is a game-changer for student-athletes, coaches, fans and recruits. "We're grateful for the indoor and outdoor tennis facilities," Jacobson said. "Having a facility of this magnitude will enhance the opportunity to recruit top talent throughout the nation to this great institution."

The facility includes 12 lighted outdoor courts and six indoor courts with a combined total of 1,400 seats for spectators. The indoor courts were completed in April 2015, enabling the men's and women's tennis teams to practice inside this past spring. The Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center features new dressing rooms, showers and team rooms for both the men's and women's tennis programs and includes new offices, meeting rooms and a satellite sports medicine treatment area for student-athletes.

DONORS STEP UP TO SUPPORT NEW SOCCER, TENNIS

Nebraska Athletics would like to thank the following leadership donors whose generous gifts helped make Hibner Stadium, Barbara Hibner Field and the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center a reality:

- Harold and Marian Andersen, Omaha, Neb.
- Don and Nancy Bouc, Denver, Colo.
- Gregg and Sharon Classen, Elkhorn, Neb.
- Mark and Debra Classen, Medina, Minn.
- Sid and Hazel Dillon, Fremont, Neb.
- Charley and Margie Eisele, Omaha, Neb.
- Tom and Mary Hendricks, Pipe Creek, Texas
- Lloyd and Donna Hinkley, Lincoln, Neb.
- Jeff Jackson, Omaha, Neb.
- Roger and Margaret Miller, Lincoln, Neb.
- Bill and Lisa Roskens, Omaha, Neb.
- Bill and Ruth Scott, Omaha, Neb.
- Larry and Sheryl Snyder, Lincoln, Neb.
- Bill White, Milford, Neb.

A pair of all-time Husker greats, in Lincoln last week for induction into the Nebraska Athletics Hall of Fame, were blown away by the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center.

"I'm really excited for Nebraska's men's tennis program because having a top facility like they just built will be a good showcase for recruiting," said Steven Jung, the first Nebraska men's tennis All-American. "For years, Nebraska men's tennis has been bumped around to all kinds of different facilities in Lincoln. Now, they have a state-of-the-art indoor/outdoor facility right on campus."

Liz Shaffer, the first Nebraska women's tennis All-American, agreed. "I literally was awestruck," she said after first touring the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center. "What an incredible facility and what a powerful recruiting tool this will be for future athletes. This new facility is going to attract some serious talent to Nebraska!"

NEBRASKA ATHLETICS THANKS SID & HAZEL DILLON

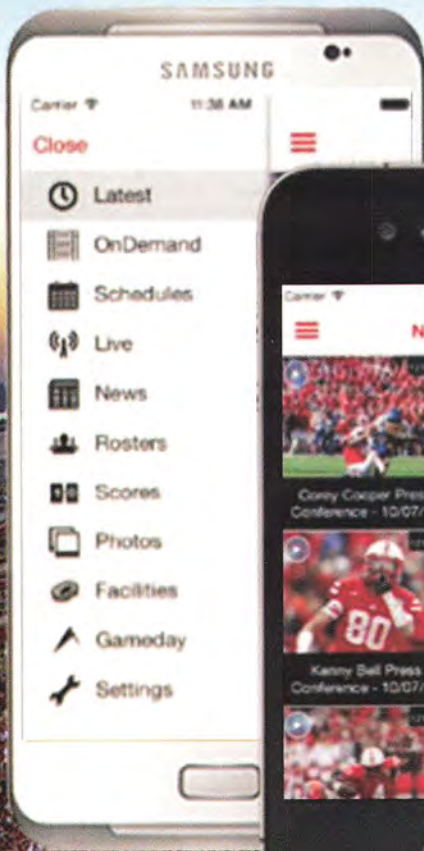

Sid and Hazel Dillon are longtime supporters of the University of Nebraska whose generosity has impacted thousands of Husker student-athletes. Their latest gift will make an enormous impact on the Nebraska men's and women's tennis programs while significantly enhancing the student-athlete experience. In addition to their impact on Nebraska Athletics, the Dillon family has been involved with numerous service-based organizations that give back to communities across the state, receiving numerous awards for their outreach initiatives. A successful businessman, Sid graduated from the University of Nebraska-Omaha following his service in the U.S. Navy.

SHAWN EICHORST

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS · THIRD YEAR
WISCONSIN-WHITEWATER · 1990

Shawn Eichorst came to the University of Nebraska in 2012 with an incredible passion for the University and for its student-athletes. As the leader of a tradition-rich athletics program with 24 intercollegiate teams, 600-plus student-athletes and more than 300 full-time employees, Eichorst has relied on a strong value system and a student-centered approach to lead the Department. Nebraska's primary mission is to provide student-athletes with the resources and support they need to be successful in academics, athletics and life. The health, safety and welfare of student-athletes are priority one and are at the essence of every decision made at Nebraska.

Nebraska has a history of providing first-class coaches, staff and facilities for its students. Additionally, since Eichorst arrived in Lincoln, resources and services in every student-athlete support unit have been improved and enhanced, including academics, athletic medicine, life skills, nutrition, sports psychology, strength and conditioning and in the Nebraska Athletics Performance Laboratory (NAPL).

Eichorst has continued to aggressively move Nebraska forward with several new initiatives to enhance the student-athlete experience. The department provided new laptop computers to all student-athletes for the first time in the summer of 2015, and the University now provides four-year, full cost of attendance-based scholarships for all scholarship student-athletes in every sport. Also beginning last summer, every Husker letterwinner who graduates and has exhausted his or her eligibility will be provided assistance to either obtain an internship, study abroad or attend graduate or professional school.

Eichorst has made more than 350 public appearances around the state, and his monthly radio show and "Connecting on Campus" online column provide the opportunity for him to further connect and share the incredible activities, initiatives and accomplishments that take place at the University and in the Department. As a member of the Chancellor's Senior Administrative Team, Eichorst maintains a strong connection and collaboration between the University and Athletics Department.

A highly respected national leader, Eichorst was appointed in 2015 to the Division I Football Oversight Committee. He was the first Director of Athletics from any conference to visit the Big Ten Conference-based Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) at its Champaign, Ill., headquarters. The CIC is a highly successful academic-based consortium of 15 schools, including all 14 in the Big Ten Conference. Nebraska is leading the Big Ten and the CIC in several areas, including Digital Humanities and head injury research.

Under Eichorst, Nebraska extended its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans to 320 and its nation-leading total of NCAA Top Ten Award winners to 17, after Mary Weatherholt (women's tennis) earned the honor in 2014. In 2014-15, more than 400 awards were presented at the 25th Anniversary Student-Athlete Recognition Banquet—A Night at the Lied. Over three commencements, 118 student-athletes earned undergraduate or graduate degrees and the Big Ten Conference honored 205 Husker student-athletes with Academic All-Big Ten awards. For the first time in school history, all Nebraska teams had an NCAA Academic Progress Rate (APR) of 950 or higher, as reported in May of 2015. The Nebraska football (second consecutive year) and rifle (third consecutive year) programs received public recognition for having an APR in the top 10 percent in their respective sports. In addition, five Husker teams (women's basketball, softball, women's tennis, volleyball and women's golf) had a Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 100 percent, as reported in the fall of 2014.

On Dec. 4, 2014, Eichorst announced the hiring of Mike Riley as the Huskers' new head football coach. As one of the most respected and sought-after coaches in the profession, Riley's hire was highly praised by prominent members of the national media, the coaching fraternity, Riley's former players, and current and former Nebraska student-athletes. In Riley, Eichorst secured one of the finest football minds in the world and a great positive-thinking teacher of young men.

In 2014-15, the Nebraska bowling team earned the school's seventh national title and fifth since bowling became an NCAA sport in 2004. The Husker men's track and field team won the Big Ten Indoor Championship and 13 Husker teams competed in NCAA postseason action, including bowling, football, volleyball, women's basketball, wrestling, softball, men's and women's gymnastics, rifle, and men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field. Nebraska produced 36 All-Americans who won 51 awards.

Nebraska's fan support continues to be unparalleled in college athletics. In fact, in 2014-15 top 15 national rankings for average attendance were reached across five sports—football, volleyball, men's and women's basketball and baseball. A tribute to loyal Husker fans, two sports lead the nation with consecutive home sellout streaks, including football (340) and volleyball for regular-season action (188).

In 2013-14, Nebraska became one of only two NCAA institutions—and the first Big Ten program—to qualify for a bowl game and advance to NCAA postseason in the major team sports of volleyball, soccer, men's and women's basketball, baseball and softball. Additionally, Nebraska was the only institution to win a postseason game in six of those seven sports.

Under Eichorst's leadership, Nebraska continues to focus on improving its facilities and the game-day experience at all athletic venues. In the summer of 2015, a world-class soccer and tennis complex (Hibner Stadium and the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center) located just north of the Devaney Center and Nebraska Innovation Campus was completed. A new center-hung video board and sound system was installed in the Devaney Center in 2015 to improve the game-day experience for volleyball, wrestling and men's and women's gymnastics. In 2014, the largest wireless network system at a college football stadium in history was installed in Memorial Stadium, along with a state-of-the-art sound system.

In the summer of 2013, a Memorial Stadium expansion also added the innovative NAPL inside East Stadium next to the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3). That same year, Nebraska's men's and women's basketball teams became the primary tenants at Pinnacle Bank Arena, and the renovated Devaney Center became the home for Husker volleyball, wrestling and the men's and women's gymnastics programs.

Eichorst came to Nebraska after serving as Director of Athletics at Miami in 2011 and 2012. He hired legendary men's basketball coach Jim Larrañaga, who led Miami to the NIT Second Round in his first season and ACC regular-season and tournament titles as well and the NCAA Sweet 16 in his second. The women's basketball program posted its highest national ranking in school history (No. 5) and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The women's tennis team advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight for the fourth straight season, and the baseball team made its 40th consecutive NCAA appearance. The women's soccer team posted its first NCAA Tournament win in school history, and the volleyball team made its third straight NCAA Tournament trip.

Before heading to Miami, Eichorst was the Deputy Athletics Director at Wisconsin. He was the Chief Operating Officer and oversaw the department's daily operations, as well as Bo Ryan's men's basketball program under the direction of Director of Athletics and former Husker Barry Alvarez.

From 2004 to 2006, Eichorst served as the Senior Associate Athletic Director for Administration at South Carolina, overseeing the department's daily operations, as well as the football and baseball programs under legendary coaches Lou Holtz, Steve Spurrier and Ray Tanner, respectively.

From 1999 to 2003, Eichorst served as the Director of Athletics at Wisconsin-Whitewater, which produced four top 10-percent finishes in the NACDA Directors Cup, one NCAA team title and two NCAA runner-up finishes. The program also featured 11 CoSIDA Academic All-America selections.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back, three-time letterwinner and 1990 football team captain for the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and in 2015 was awarded the Distinguished Alumni Award for Professional Achievement. He earned a law degree from Marquette Law School in 1995, practiced law in Milwaukee until 1999 and is a past member of the State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors. He served as an assistant adjunct professor of law at Marquette, where he taught classes in sports law. He serves on the Marquette University National Sports Law Institute Board of Advisors and in 2006, Marquette awarded Eichorst the Sports Law Alumnus of the Year Award. He is also a graduate of the Sports Management Institute and serves on its Executive Committee.

Always a place of high ambition, UNL was one of the first institutions west of the Mississippi River to award doctoral degrees—the first was granted in 1896. The University of Nebraska established the world’s first undergraduate psychology laboratory. The discipline of ecology was born here, and the campuses reflect that tradition, being recognized as botanical gardens and arboreta. An early institutional interest in literature and the arts provided the foundations for today’s Prairie Schooner literary magazine, the University of Nebraska Press and the Sheldon Museum of Art, which houses one of the world’s most significant collections of 20th century American art.

Today, the University of Nebraska–Lincoln is one of the nation’s leading teaching institutions, and a research leader with a wide array of grant-funded projects aimed at broadening knowledge in the sciences and humanities.

The University of Nebraska–Lincoln is the intellectual center for the state of Nebraska, providing leadership in education and research. The citizens of Nebraska benefit from the knowledge and research generated by our faculty and students.

On June 24, 2015, the APLU designated UNL as an Innovation and Economic Prosperity University, recognizing UNL’s strong commitment to economic engagement. The designation acknowledges universities that work to advance the economic well-being of their states and regions through research, education and engagement that foster innovation and entrepreneurship, technology transfer, talent and workforce development and community development. UNL was one of 18 universities named to this year’s group.

UNL’s research expenditures totaled more than $266 million in 2013, the most recent fiscal year for which expenditure information is available. This total included nearly $98 million in federal research expenditures. The National Science Foundation accounted for 30 percent of UNL’s federal research expenditures, followed by 17 percent from the Department of Health and Human Services and 13 percent from the Department of Defense. UNL’s goal is to achieve $300 million in total research expenditures by 2018, with at least half coming from federal agencies.

ALL-TIME GREATS

Following the 1949 season, the N Club voted to retire jersey No. 60 in honor of Tom "Train Wreck" Novak's stellar career with the Cornhuskers. Novak, the first Nebraska player to earn this honor, had been a four-time All-Big Seven choice and a 1949 All-American.

For 55 years, Novak was the only NU player to have the distinction of a retired number. In 2004, that finally changed as College and Pro Football Hall of Famer Bob Brown's No. 64 joined Novak's hallowed No. 60 among the only two permanently retired numbers at Nebraska.

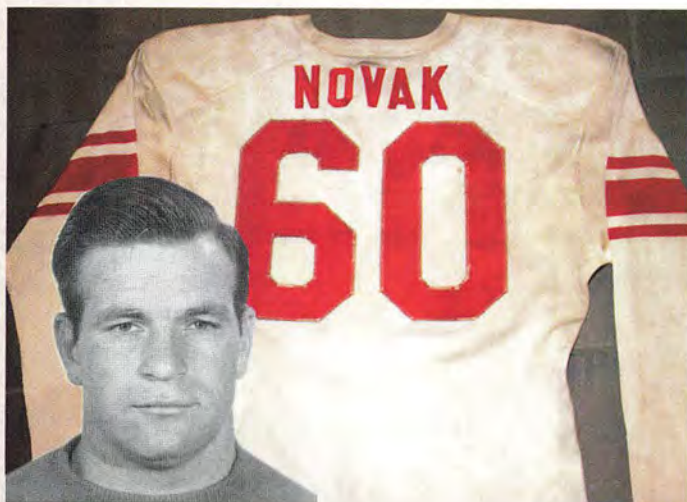

All major national award winners at Nebraska automatically have their jerseys retired, but their numbers will still be available to active Huskers.

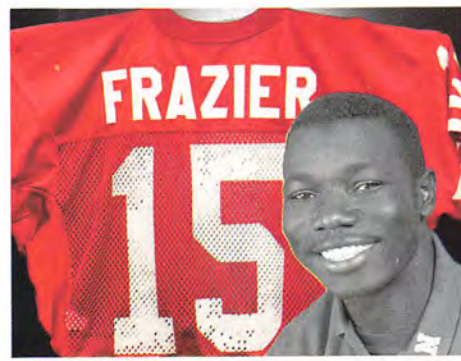

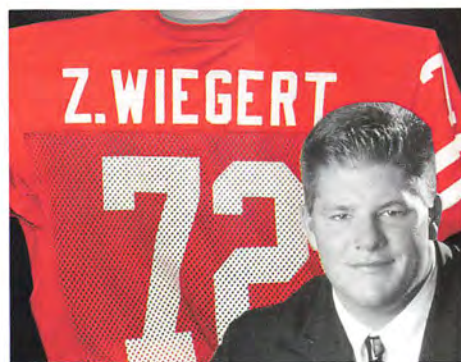

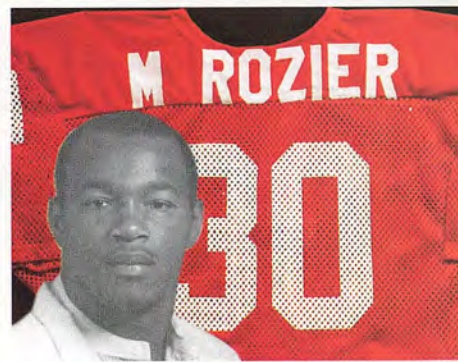

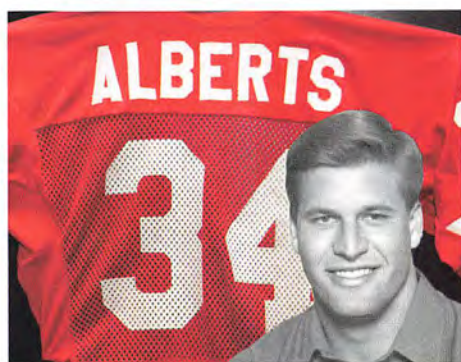

1993 Butkus Award winner Trev Alberts is one of 17 players with their jersey retired at Nebraska. Alberts is the most recent Husker selected to the College Football Hall of Fame and will be inducted in December.
